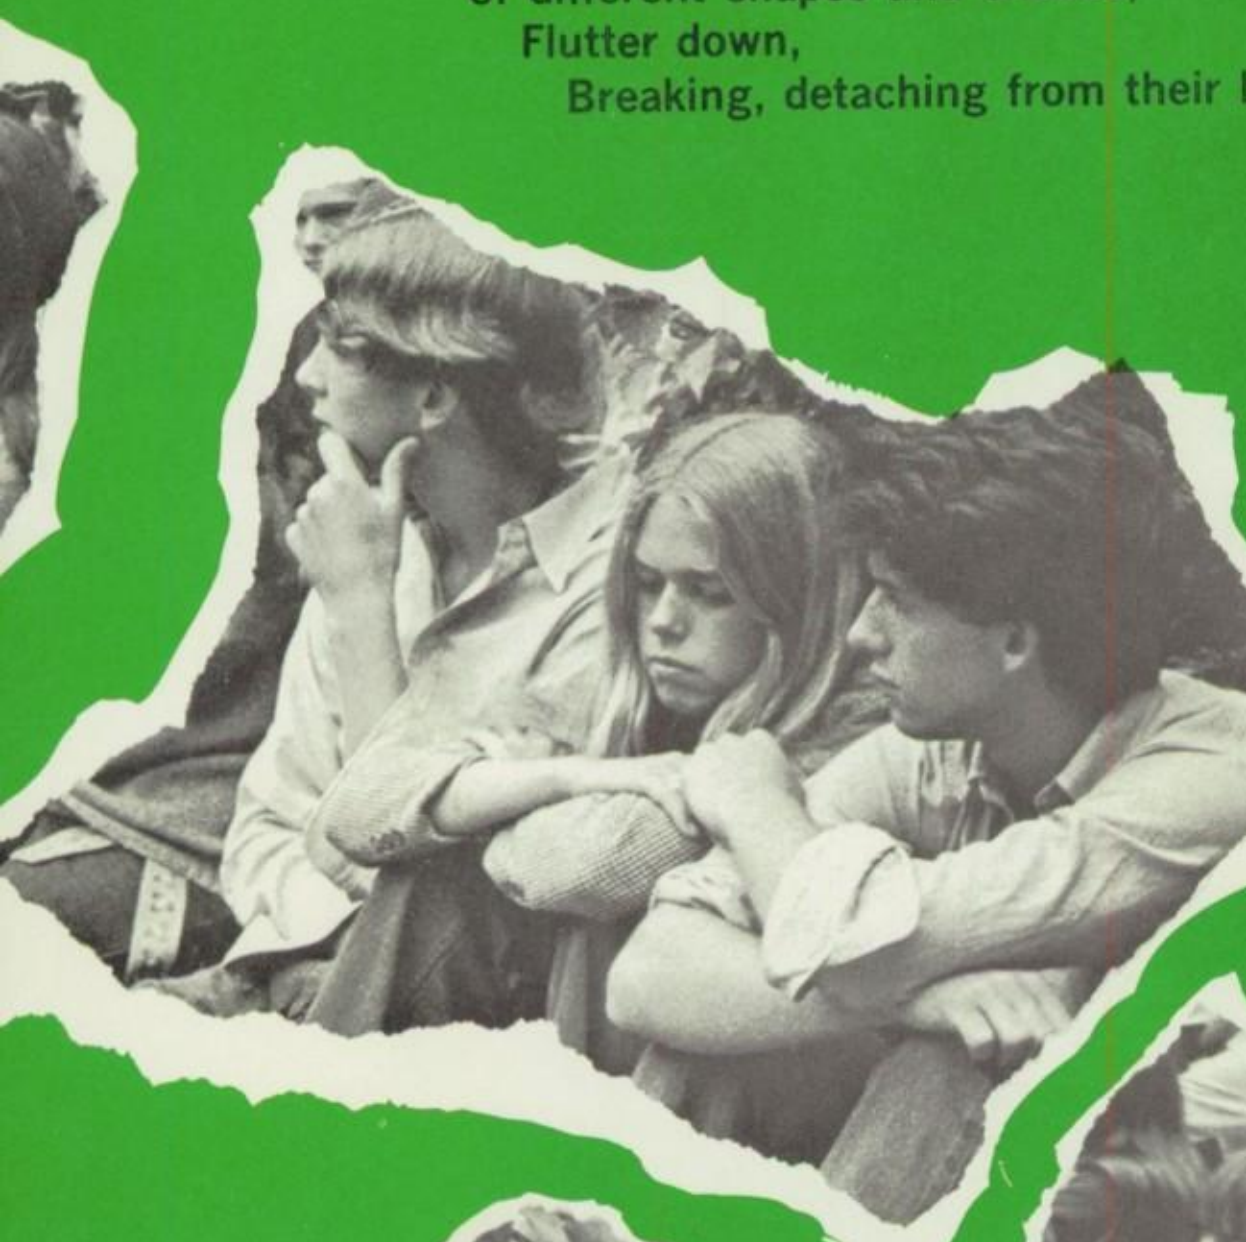
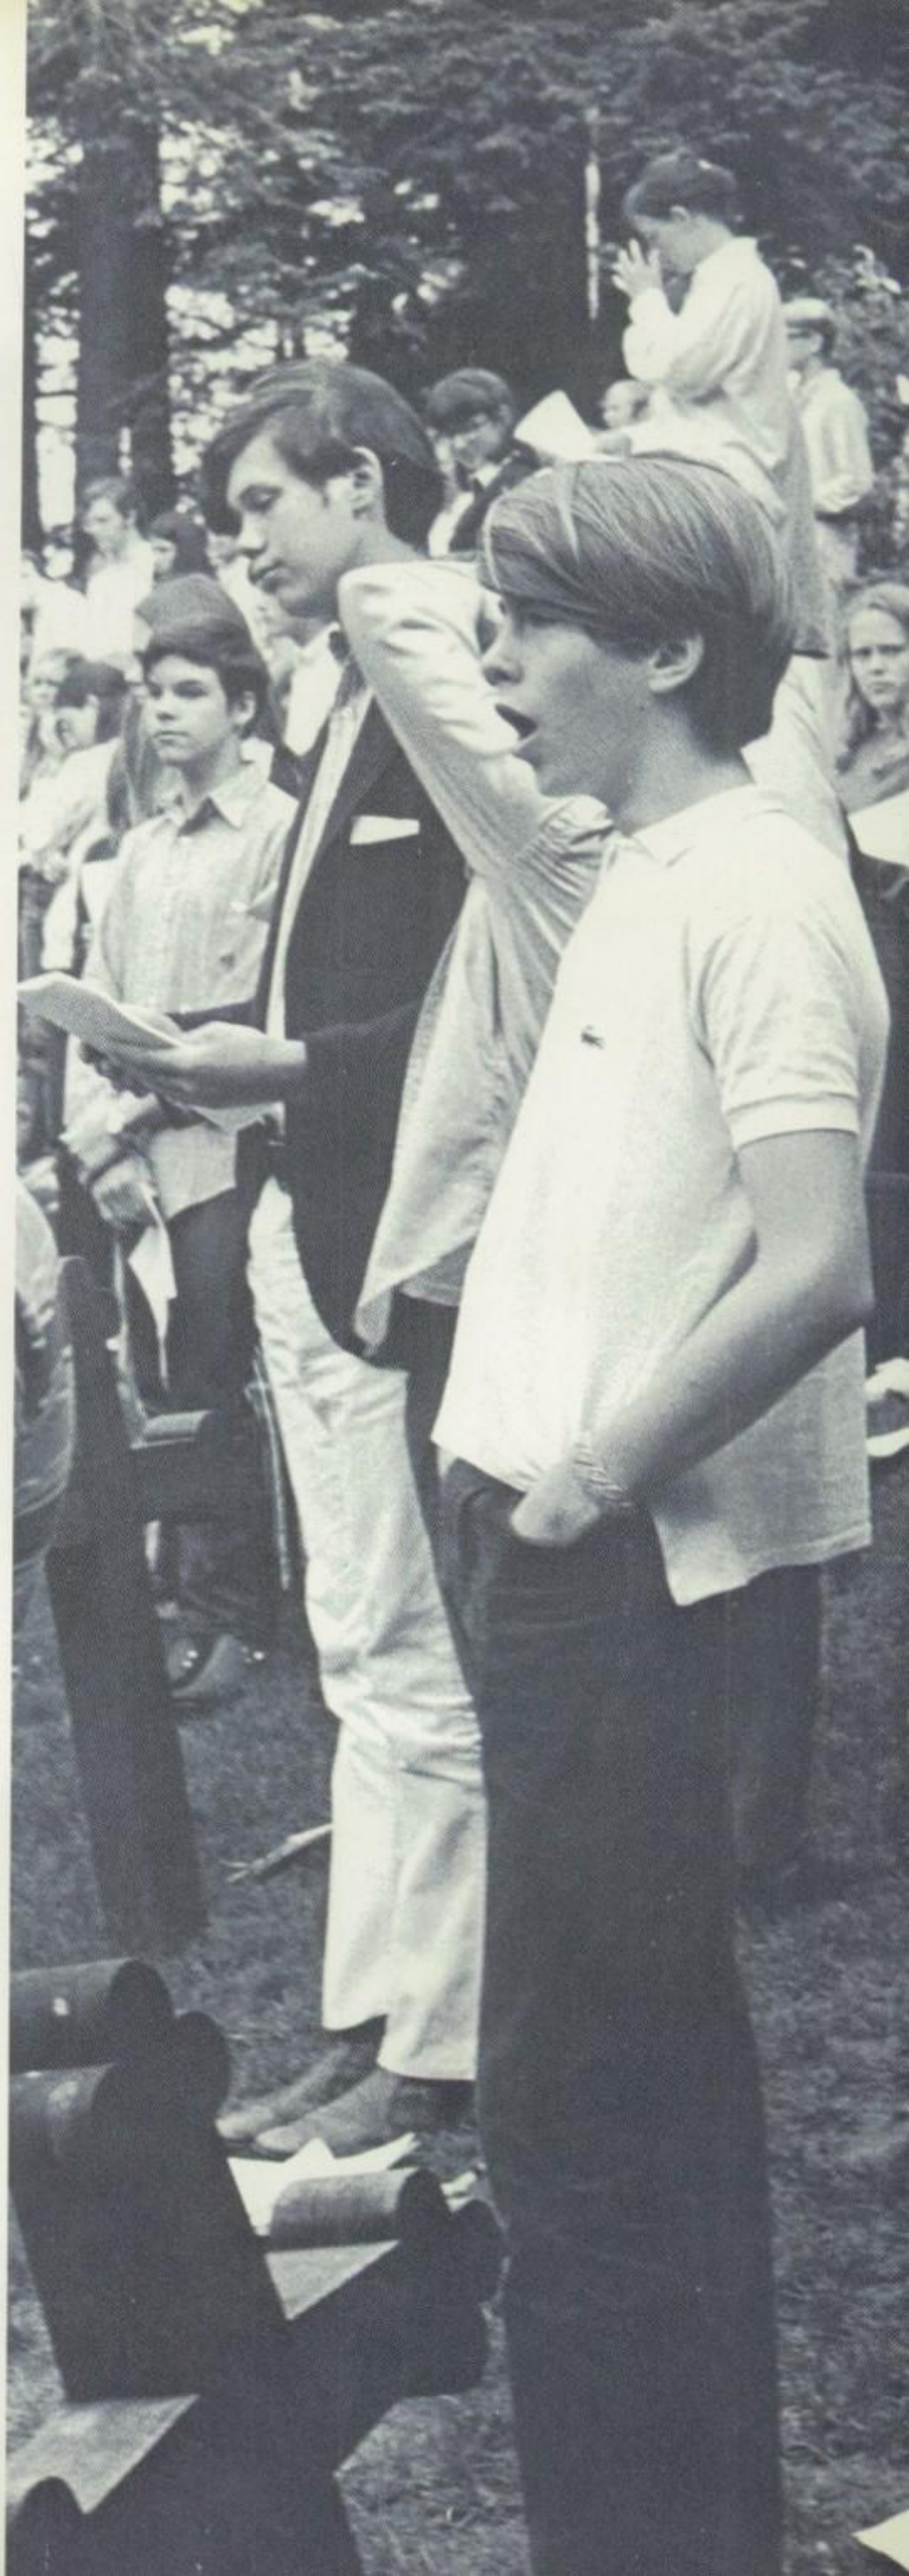
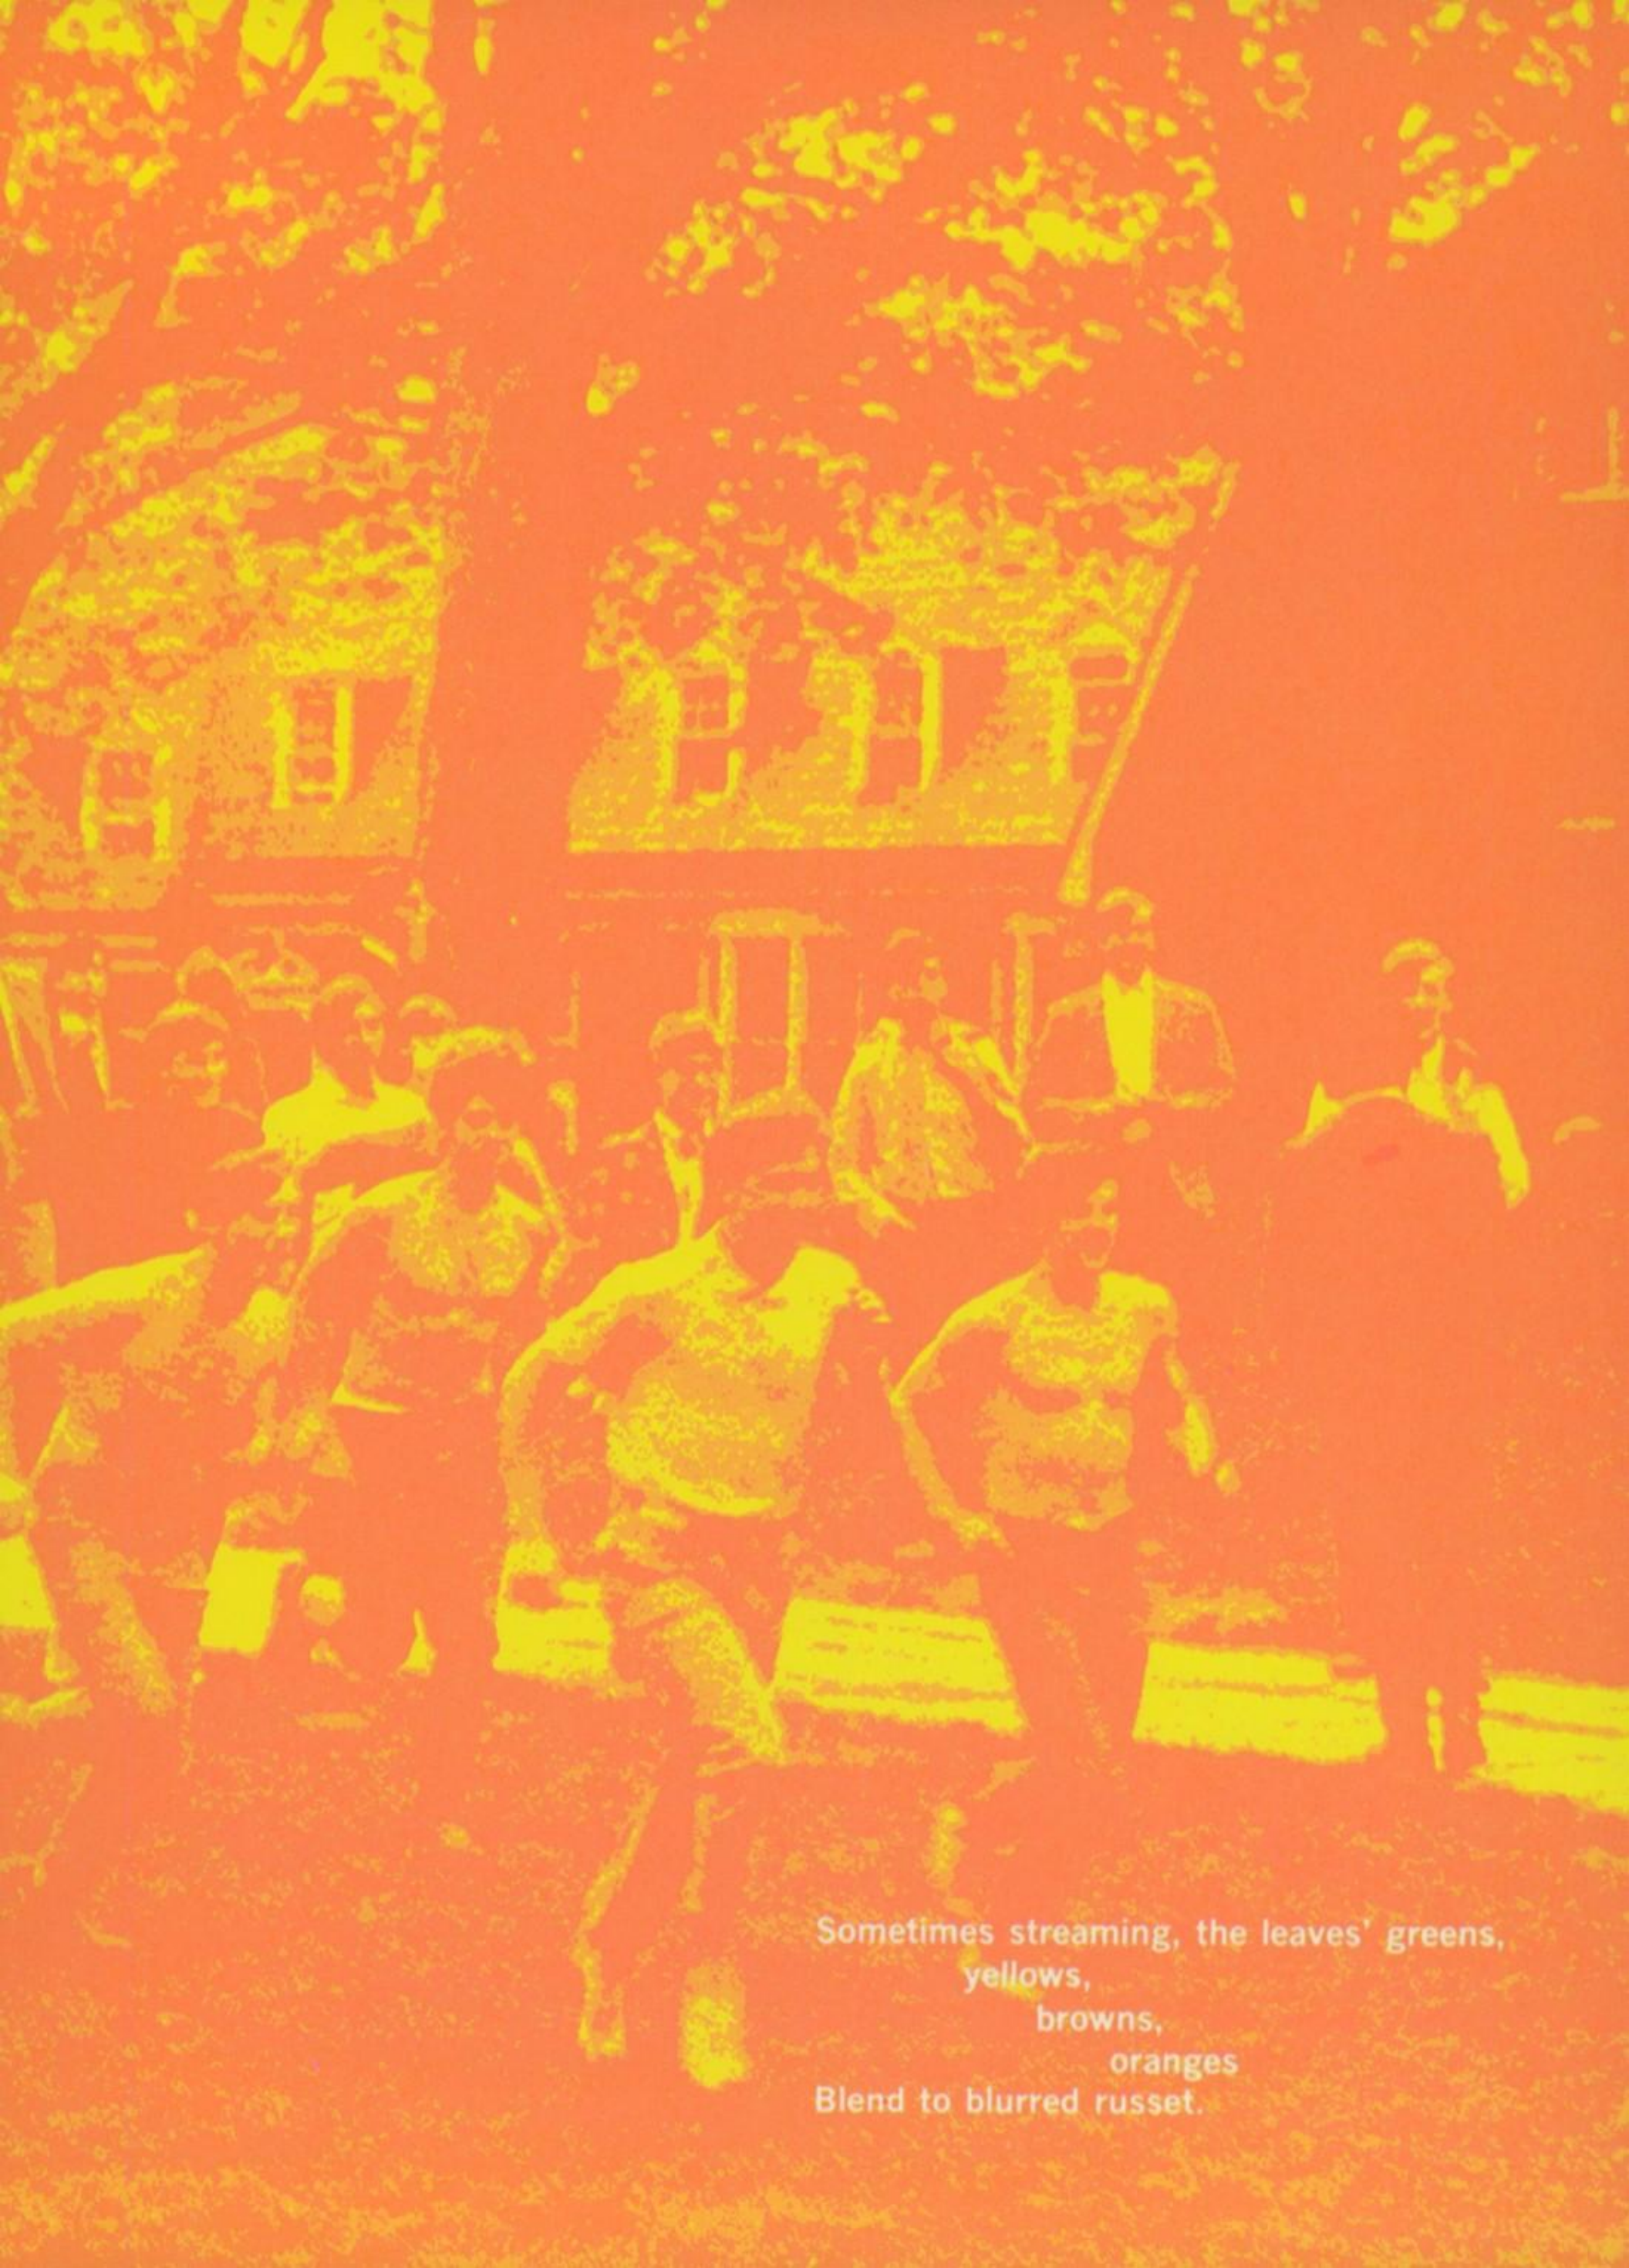
As leaves,
From various trees,
of different shapes and shades,
Flutter down,
Breaking, detaching from their branches,



The wind, awakening, draws them up and bears them away.
  Zephyrs blowing playfully, carry them
To merge with the mainstreamed wind.
  Slowly at first,
The twirling, whirling of confusion
Brushes the leaves to the borders of the gust.



The paler, newer leaves trip slowly,
Less sure.
But,
The wind-broom
And its kaleidoscope
leaf-brushes
Sweep back the strays.
Gathering strength,
The force, carrying its mass
of leaves,
Rushes on.



Sometimes streaming, the leaves' greens, yellows,
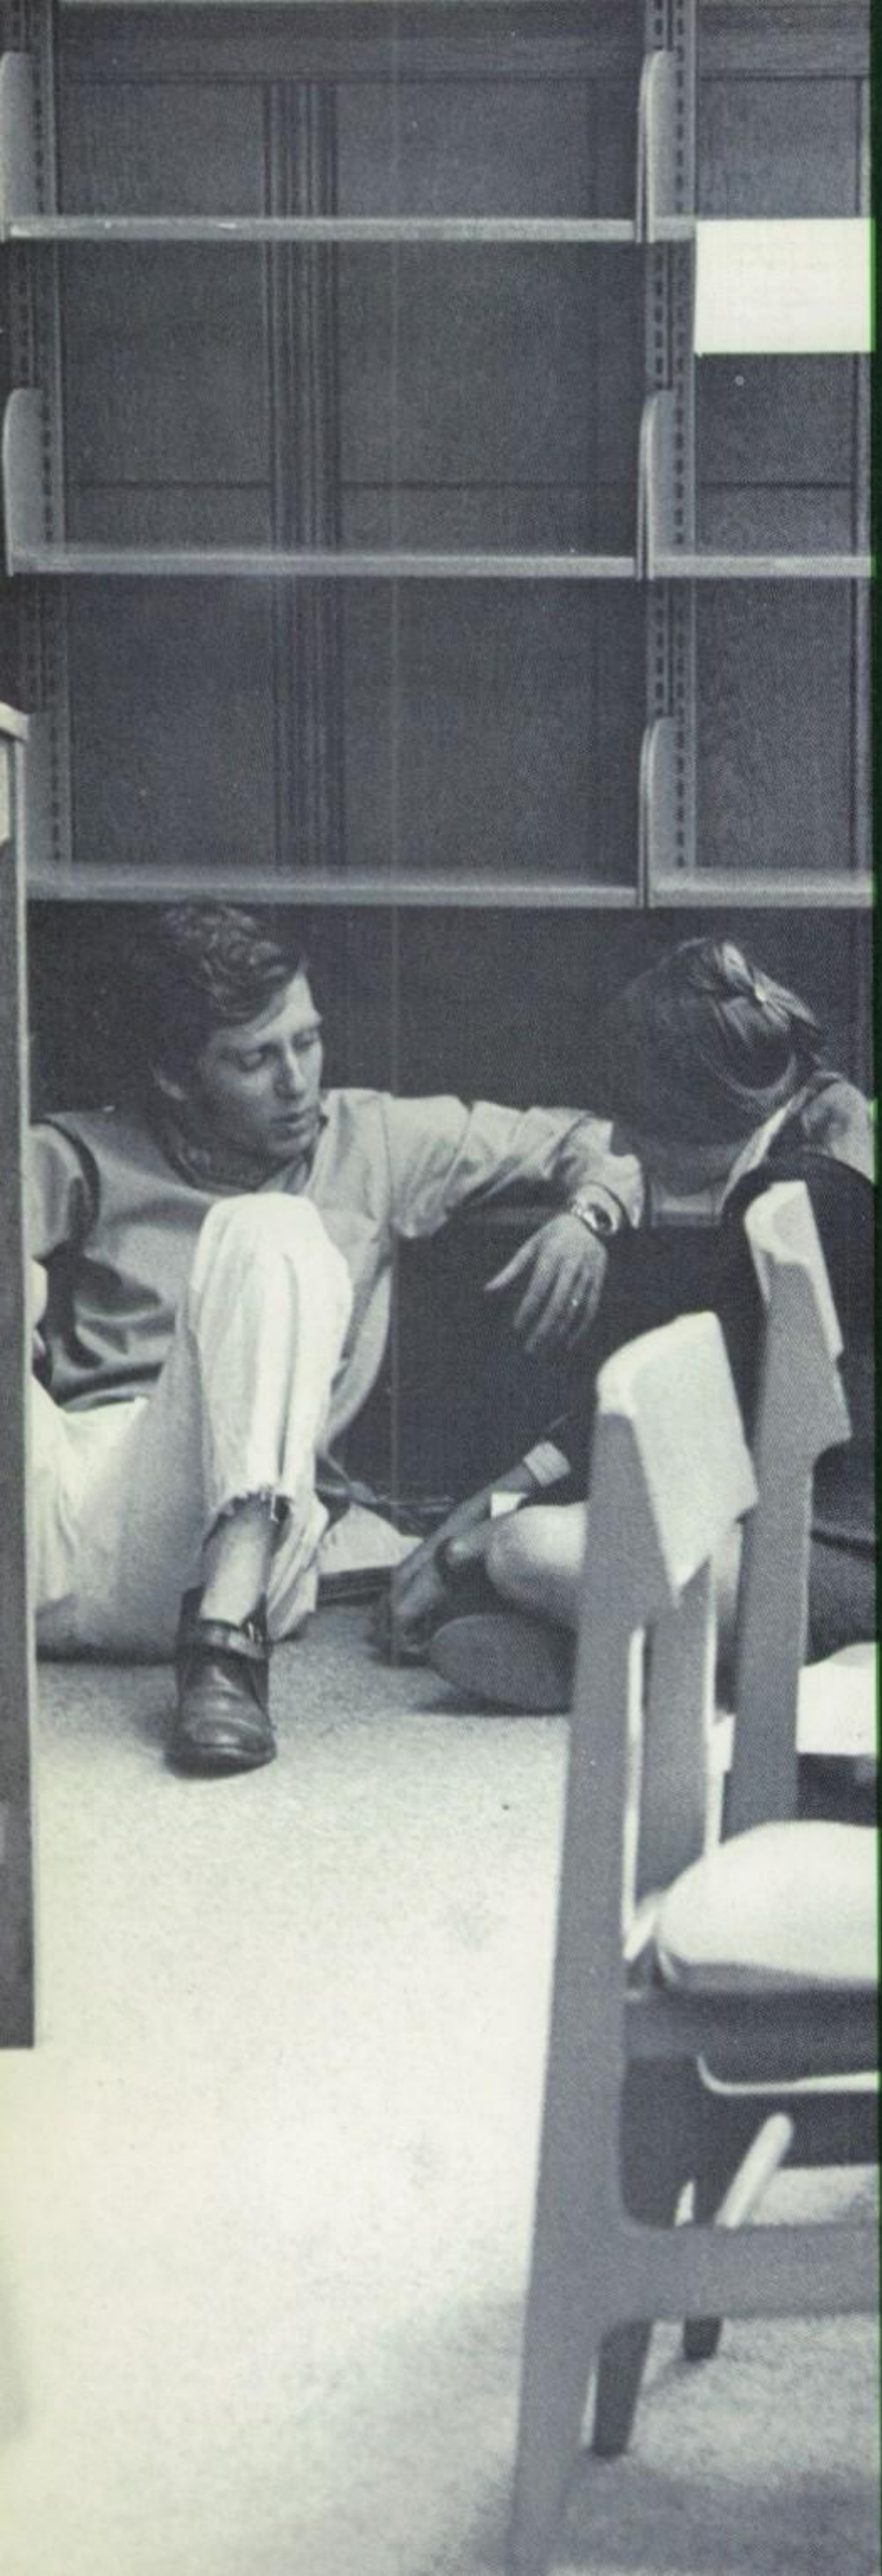
browns,
oranges
Blend to blurred russet.



Sometimes in jagged movement,
individuals emerge,
Tugging to be freed from the vacuum.
Sometimes, brushed away,
leaves are lost altogether.
Sometimes quiet, reaching the ground
in peaceful anonymity,
They become one

Some, hitting stone are stopped, hurled;
And caught in their barriers, falter.
Currents, surging, untrap them.

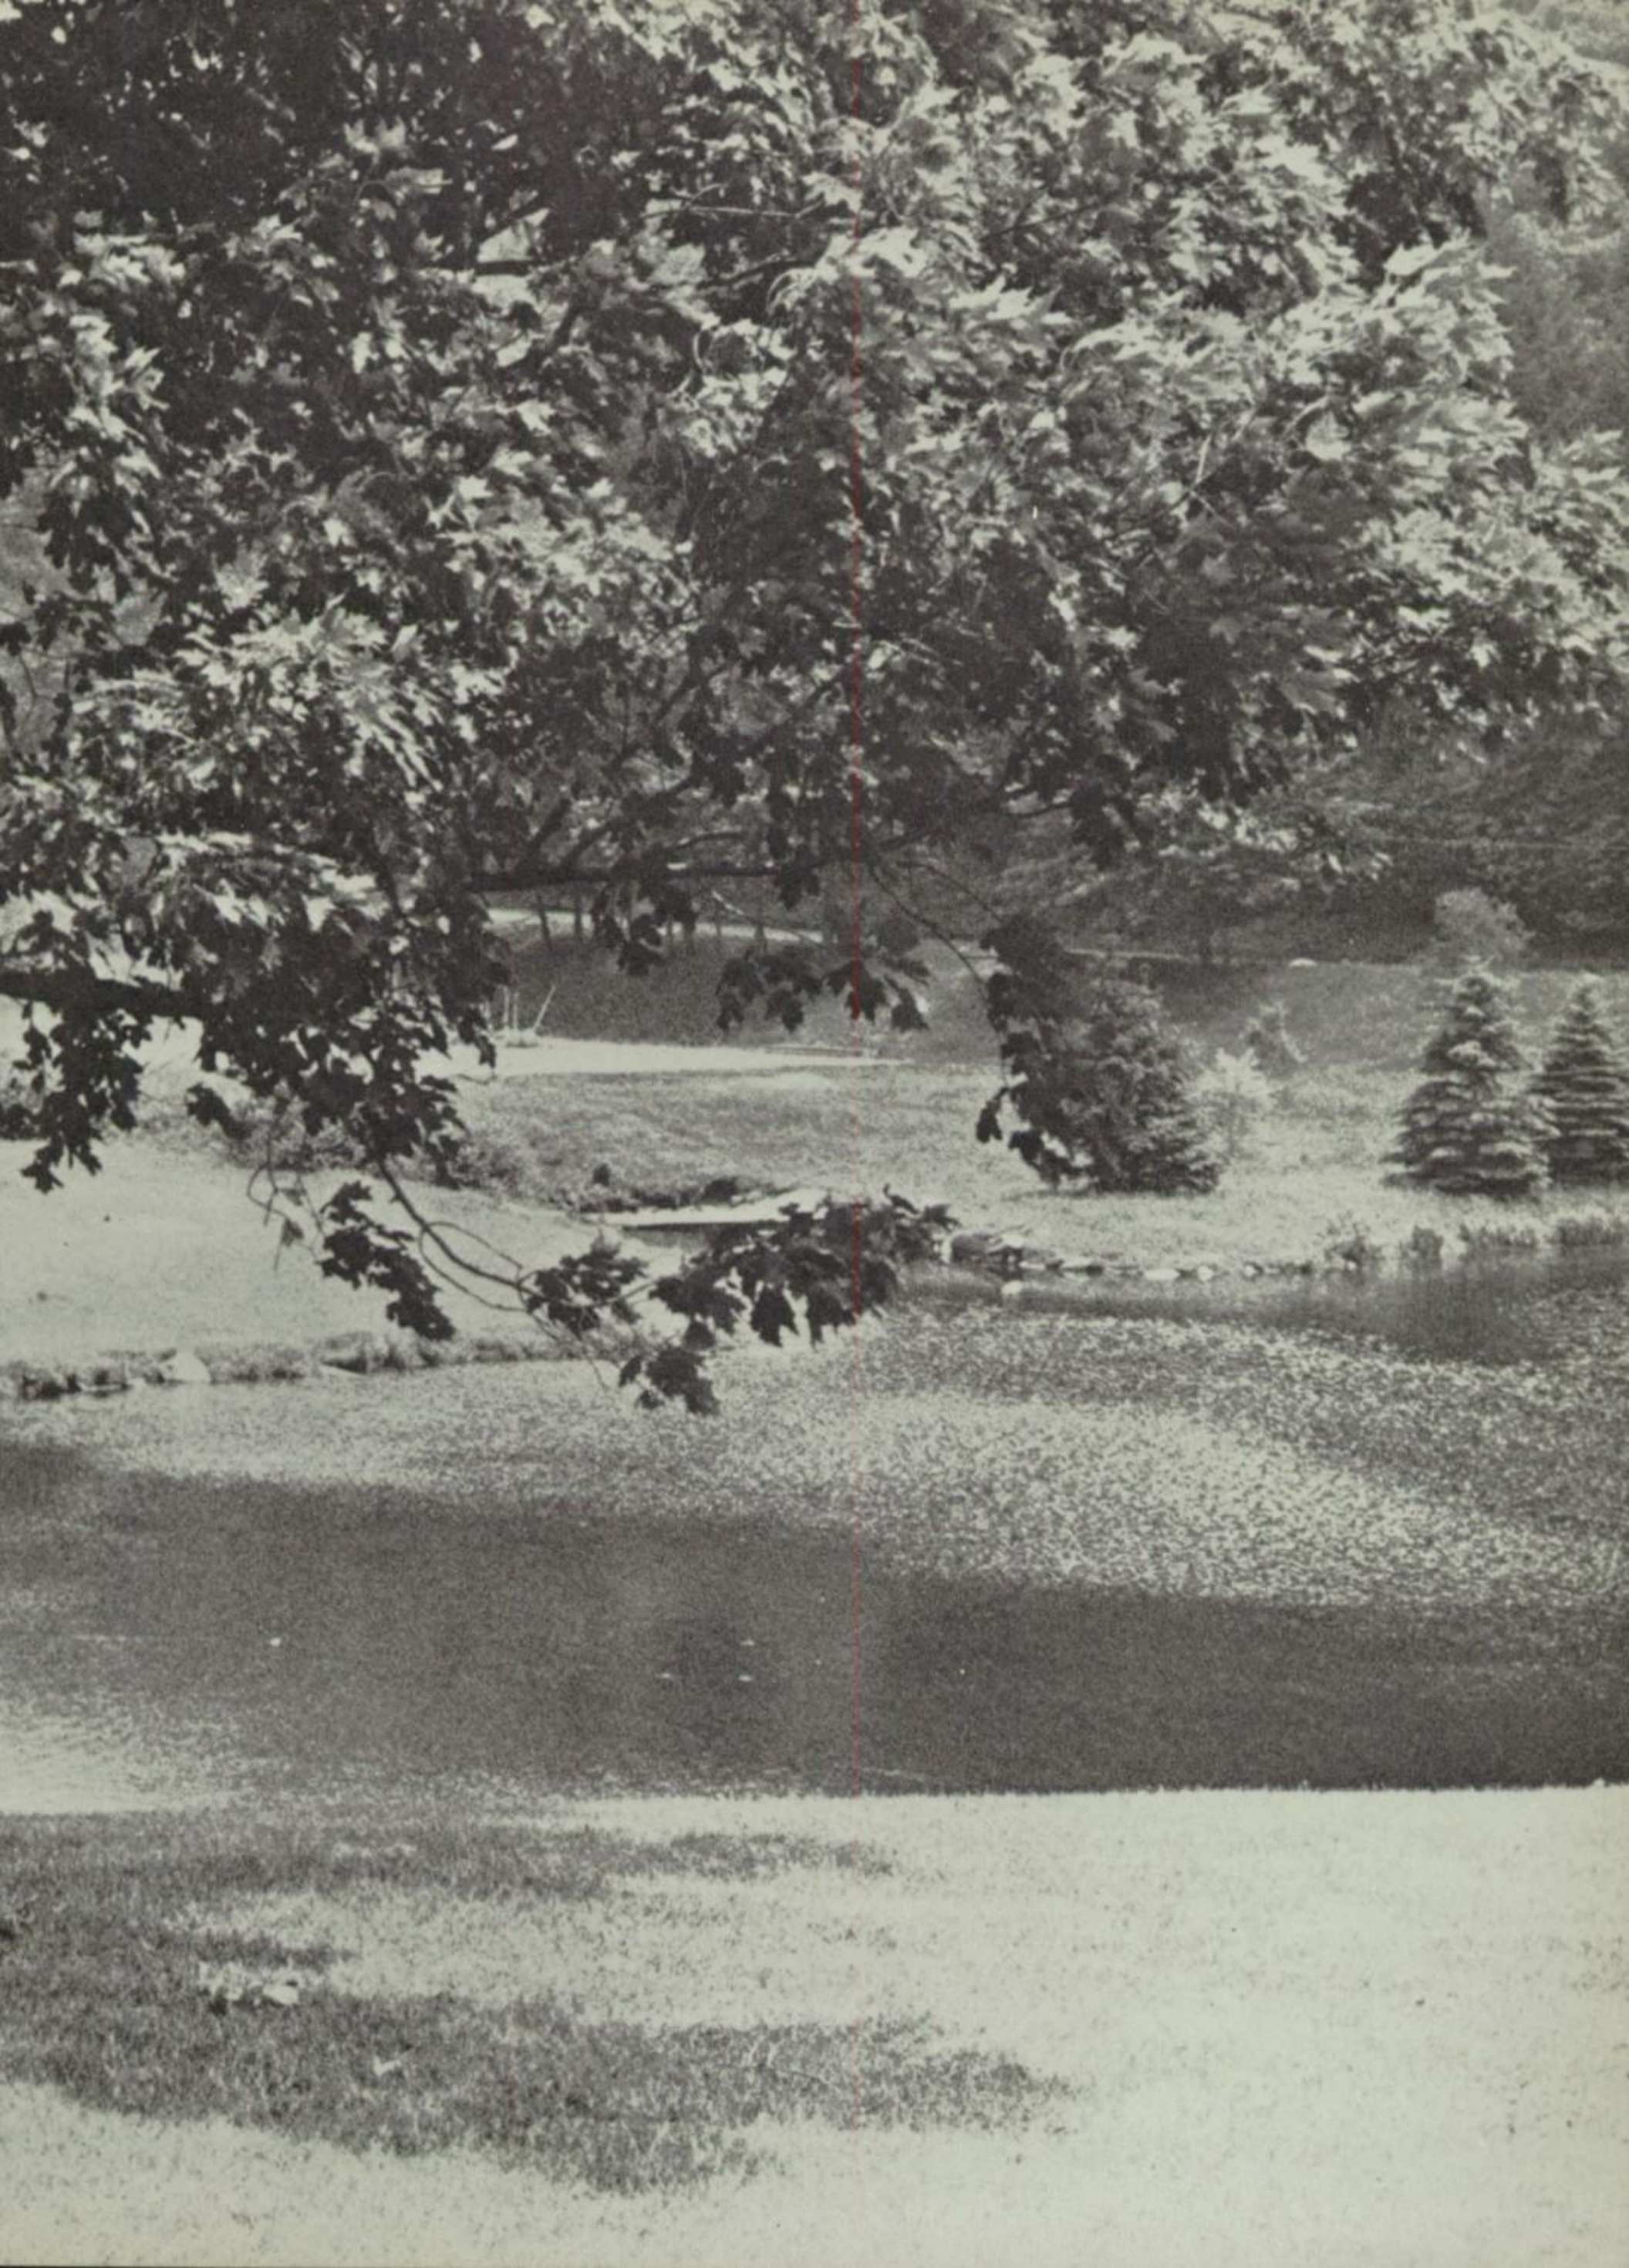
Merging,
Interacting in patterns,
Losing form,
They fly.

Over landscapes.
Gliding across crisp ice, snow;
Flowing through fields of green;
Slowing sluggish in mud;
Rippling in water;
Sweeping, tripping, streaming, they travel.



Wind fades
Leaves confused, separate.
Each, snatched by new currents, are carried to new places
Always swept by the wind-broom.

After this voyage,
After this wind,
After changing landscapes,
Are leaves the same?

This year, Mr. Burdick took over the position of Chairman of the Guild. In doing so he tightened the control of sponsors in the preparation of papers. This small squeeze was visible in the presentations of the papers, for they were all concise and well organized. The candidates had rehearsed well, and were capable of articulate discussion in the question and answer periods that followed their performances.

Mr. Burdick also began a program of seminars for guild members. This year's subject was the Rennaissance, and various members met with masters in Mr. Burdick's home which he was so gracious as to provide for such gatherings.

The guild may be intellectual, but it can, if it tries really hard, be exciting. There was the time Mr. Keogh was talking about the Reformation – a picture fell from the wall and bounced off his head. Ah, yes, quite amusing.

THE NOW INFAMOUS KENT NEWS

Kent News: Congratulations, Mr. William Lide, on your recent promotion with the New York Times to Editor-in-Chief. I'm doing a story on your for the Kent News.

Lide: A fine organization. I got my start there back in '70.

News: Really sir! The class of 1970! I'm honored. Can you remember how you felt as you reached the end of your year with the News?

Lide: I recall thinking that my prayers had finally been answered. How is good old Kent?

News: Right now the school is in the middle of the annual Ugly Man Contest.

Lide: Our first winner was a natural. He beat even "the face that was banned in Boston." Do you still choose a Man-or-the-Year?

News: Unfortunately not. Subsequent editors didn't feel they could match 1969's Spiro T. Agnew.

I can't help shedding a tear each time I read about Acheteur, the French peasant, in his fight for class equality.

Lide: Brings back memories. Those were the best years of my life.

Whiteman, Eissler, Noble.

News: I recently read the Senior Council proposal for liberalizing the News. How did this lead to a new policy?

Lide: Hopefully it opened the door to publishing student opinions in the News in coming years. Bill Hellendale, Peter Dyer, Mark Hawkins, and I had never worked so hard. All of the Council's support was invaluable, too.

News: Mr. Lide, how do you plan to reorganize the Times?

Lide: Well, I've contacted all my old editors and staff. We have Peter managing the reporting, Ethan Campbell on features, and Jere Fletcher and Mark on sports. Duncan Caldwell is writing racy editorials, and Hellendale has his staff of thousands on headlines.

News: Are there any problems?

Lide: Yes. Ethan still won't get his hair cut. And there is no Music Page for Tom Simons. Karl Christoffers and Peter MacGill won't stop fighting over the photography spot. And, Dyer still hasn't got his diploma. Also, with our budget, it's hard to supply Bill's staff of thousands, who demand Cokes on Sunday nights.

News: Where did they get an idea like that?

Lide: That was the first reform which we found necessary at Kent.

News: How did the Kent budget handle it?

Lide: Barely. The refreshments, along with comparatively minor publishing costs, put the budget around $10,000.

News: I do recall the News set a sort of record for total length in 1969-70. That must have been one of Kent School journalism's finest hours.

Lide: You sound like our type of man. How about doing an article for the Times?

Sneath, Hellendale, Caldwell, Christoffers, Dyer, Lide. Cambpell, Fletcher, Hawkins, Ethridge, Bunting.

THE CAULDRON

Double, double, toil and trouble,
Fire burn and cauldron bubble."
– Shakespeare.

The Cauldron offers the creative student a chance to display his efforts, so to speak. Our most famed authors: William Shakespeare, Nathaniel Hawthorne, Edwin Gilbert and all the other great ones you've heard about made their debuts in the Cauldron.

The 1969-70 magazine, edited by a board of astute young writers, far surpassed any previous issues, and the reviews were highly favorable:

"The latest edition of the Cauldron is a masterpiece of rhetoric and design." N.Y.T.

"I really liked the Cauldrain, ah, Cauldron. Sorree . . ." Anonymous.

"Highly imaginative, well written, pertinent piece of literature." T.S.

The Kent forensic society, affectionately dubbed the Debating Club, has not been quite as active this year as could have been wished. The inter-school confrontations numbered three. The range of topics was as follows: "space travel should be postponed for 10 years." "Communism is necessarily evil," and "the voting age for local, state and federal elections should be lowered to 18."

Officers of this august society were Christine Wallich (president) and Debbie Greenman (vice-president).

"Well, ring my chimes! Chime my rings?? "

This year's bellringer's association was a neat club. Under the supervision of Mr. Howard, John Meade and Mary Herndon led their respective schools in some rousing changes. They provided heavy tunes at several chapel services which were soothing switches from the proverbial organ. The members also rang the bells in the B.S belltower which, contrary to popular opinion, was constructed for the ringing of bells. One such highlight was the performance following the Christmas carol service. Well, it was a good year, and we very nicely escaped from the armadillo attack.

COMMITTEE OF THE CONCERNED

This year's committee members had many channels through which to divert their concern. They could work on an individual basis with a retarded child at Wassaic, they could help the mentally disturbed at Harlem Valley, or they could show their dedication by contracting hepatitis while volunteering. However, it really wasn't necessary to go to this extreme to find satisfying work. The committee provided these opportunities and others to employ the resources of the Kent students who were concerned about matters outside school life. These people had the opportunity to give some of their time in an effort to face these problems. With Terry Person at the head of the group, the members had a satisfying, experience-ridden year.

1970 was like no other year. This could, I suppose, be said by all graduating classes, and naturally each class is slightly different. This year, however, was completely new with innovated standards, language and ideas. The Carujan Varsity Truckers somewhat symbolizes the spirit of 1970 — its cynicism, its apathy, its love of good times, its cult of trucking and its completely uninhibited attitude.

This yearbook attempts to summarize and capture the whole attitude of our class. Some people will look through this book and regard it as a stupid work put together by some immature kids who had a fad-like sense of humor. Others will complain that when we look back on our class as presented in the yearbook we will be embarrassed by our attitude, our sarcasm, our caustic humor and our protesting feelings. Alumni and other adults may exclaim that this book doesn't represent what they think Kent students should be like: and it doesn't. It doesn't present Kent as the ideal school, the Clean Cut Eastern Prep School; it doesn't glamorize all school activities; it doesn't praise every student or every institution and it doesn't disregard the shortcomings of Kent. On the contrary, it voices the attitude of the class of 1970. It pictures Kent and its organizations the way they truly are, or at least the way our form has seen them. We want a record of our year as we lived it.

THE PHOTO CLUB

The Photo Club of 1970 not only supported Lide's News but also gave moral support to Karl Christoffers as he completed the job as Photography Editor on that now famed staff. Ricky Rineheart came on strong, handicaped only by the theft of his camera. Lance Slaughter, still with camera, was able to come out of the ranks to succeed Karl as Photography Editor of the News. Mole MacGill, hampered by the loss of all his equipment, still found interesting subjects on Algo and at the Girls' School. The camera does make a good excuse, men.

THE PRESS CLUB

The Press Club in 69-70 did an excellent job in covering the Kent interscholastic sport events. Its responsibilties included corresponding with newspapers about the results of games or matches, suppyling other schools with rosters for all varsity sports and preparing programs for important home matches.

The club this year included Charlie Poole, Sandy Muther, Bill Whidden, Mike Sibert, Carl von Mehren and John Esler. Special thanks should be given to Carl and John who held the club together during the long winter months when interest in the club started to ebb.

The coverage of sports events, which is the main responsibility of the club, was much improved this year. Three new newspapers were added to the list. The Boston papers took feature articles on football, basketball, hockey and crew. For the first time in Kent history The New York Times covered our squash matches.

THE ART CLUB

For some strange reason, the Art Club this year attracted artistic people. Of course having Artistic Alison McLean as president to bring in all her artistic friends might have helped. And, of course, Tuesday night is the time when being artistic is a nice change of pace from such mundane, dull and drab things as math proofs and history term papers. Even in Winter there was a pretty steady turn-out of 6 or 7 people, which should prove that Kent School girls are just as artistic as anyone else.

Since this is the big year for social consciousness, Art Club decided to do something that would bring joy and beauty to vast numbers of people. After a great deal of discussion, we thought a tile mural for McGovern common room's drag fireplace would be nice. Everyone made a tile, then we chose the ones that would look the best together and made molds for them. With the five or six molds we made lots and lots and lots of tiles. We had to make lots because some cracked when they were fired. There is nothing like working with wet clay between your fingers (and eventually fingernails) to get your mind working, and we had many fascinating discussions about just about everything from war and government to school affairs. Mr. Saucy is to be commended for his patience in dealing with a large group of girls getting their hostilities out as well as for his good advice on how to make tiles and what to do with them once they were made. He also is to be thanked for spending the time when there were probably all kinds of other things he could have done instead.

Love and Peace, Martha

THE CROP

Shatzie Farley and Ida Lorentzen, who were the co-presidents of Crop, have a few words to say remembering their past year in the illustrious equestrian organization of Kent School. Now these comments may seem a bit obscure to non-Crop members, but you must remember that the Crop is a selective, exclusive club.

"Well, Ida, I'd say it was a good(?), relaxed(??) year."

"That's true, at least when Mr. Rohrer wasn't saying, 'Ven vould you care to shut up and use your brain instead of your mouth?' and it was a cold winter."

"Remember all the new 'friends' that kept showing up?"

"Never for those Sunday night lecture-parties, though."

"Ida, whom do you vant to ride?" muffled laughter.

"And remember Bob Brain, R.V. and One Brow?"

"It was some year!"

"I don't understand why they always have to have the Spring horse-show on dance-weekend every year. What a bummer."

"At least Nola was finally promoted from junior Crop."

"And I guess the mirrors never did say who was sexiest. Oh, well, we lose."

"Enough of this reminiscing. I just want to say bye to Dennis, Beacon, Spaghetti Legs and Miska and the coop."

"Yea, and have fun next year, chickies!"

Kent's 1969 League champion football team was characterized by an improved line and the best backfield in the league. Despite few returning lettermen, great spirit and superior coaching transformed a once inferior team into league champions.

On September 5 the team returned for an early practice. New prospects heightened hopes for a winning season but the coaches needed convincing. Steve Harris, a legendary Jet, had come to play quarterback instead of backing up Joe Namath. Co-Captain Fleischmann and letterman Zelweiger provided speed and agility to form a powerful running attack. Piatelli performed superbly at fullback to afford strength up the middle.

The line improved steadily all season. Co-captain Warfield and letterman Gilbert were outstanding as offensive ends. Tackles Jordan and Miller provided crushing blocks to aid the ground attack. Guards Babeuf and Florentine improved under Coach Gaston's guidance. Lapins, the trucker from Canada, proved to be a strong lineman. Defensively, Gilbert and Lapins played the tackles with Warfield and Collinson at the ends. Davis did a good job of jamming up the middle at center guard. Piatelli and Jordan developed into competent linebackers to coordinate with cornerbacks Fleischmann and Johnson and safteys Thoren and Zellweiger.

The first game of the season was a disappointing loss to a strong Canterbury squad. Kent was not mentally prepared for the game. Kent consequently lost the game 35-12, the only loss of the season.

Angered by the loss to Canterbury, the team trounced Trinity Pauling, 39-9, much to the delight of a large alumni crowd. Zellweiger scored three touchdowns and team spirit rose for coming games.

On mother's weekend, Kent hosted a physically large Suffield team. Quickness in the backfield won the game for Kent: Zellweiger scored twice to rally the score to 26-6.

In a sloppily played game, Kent added another win to its record by beating Berkshire, 22-14. Fleischmann scored twice gaining 317 yards. There was alot of work to be done before our next game with Taft.

A well drilled Taft team outplayed Kent in the first half the next week although Kent led 8-7. Kent's spirit was tested as Taft scored early in the second half to lead 15-8. A determined Kent squad drove back with a score to make the score 15-14, Taft. In the remaining minutes, Harris passed to Warfield on the two and Fleischmann went in for the score. Kent won, 20-15.

Determined to recapture the Loomis spoon, the team worked exceptionally hard all week long. Before a dance weekend crowd, Kent trailed 14-8 at the half. Inspired by the talks of Coach Fleischmann and Mr. Towle, the team came back with a solid defensive effort in the second half. Fleischmann scored twice and Kent won, 22-14.

After a week of practice in the riding rink, the team felt adequately prepared for the league championship game against Hotchkiss. Early in the game Fleischmann broke loose for a 25 yard scoring run. That was the only score of the half. Behind 8-0, Hotchkiss came back in the third quarter to tie the game 8-8. Following a blocked punt, Hotchkiss scored to lead in the game 14-8. A pass from Harris to Warfield provided a score and a subsequent 14-14 tie. A hectic game followed: neither team could score and Kent had to settle for a disappointing tie.

At the banquet Thoren received the most improved player trophy, Gilbert and Piatelli were awarded the "Spirit" trophy and Jordan received the best lineman trophy. Gilbert and Thoren were elected co-captains of Coach Theobald's 1970 defending champions team.

The 1969 football team reinstated the winning tradition at Kent and much praise goes to Mr. Fleischmann as he retires.

A lot could be said about what went wrong with this year's soccer team. Despite the presence of strong players, we compiled a 7-6-1 record, poor for a Kent team. But there's more to a season than its record and it was in the spirit and unity inspired by Coach Partridge, Coach Johnson and Captain Vallas that we excelled. They led us to forge a mutual affection and respect for the game and for each other that sustained us through some of the darker moments and made the lighter more brilliant.

For a few of the brighter among us, it started over the summer, but for most it began in those first gruelling days of early week. Several million hopefuls showed up and then mysteriously dropped out one by one from the twice daily practices. We had then no idea of our potential. Last year's league leading line was back almost intact, but only three defensive starters, Captain Zorba, Slip Pulford and Compy Chase had returned. Yet somewhere in the next two weeks, with the addition of Jeff Fox's rather imposing foot, we found a tight defense that all season allowed less than two goals a game. Yet we were still untried when we opened, scrimmaging Laurelcrest and Salisbury.

The former fell 5-0, the latter 3-0. Our play was without polish but showed great promise. We felt ready for our first official game against Windsor Mt. Ignoring their shoulder-length hair, we concentrated on our steadily improving game, pummelling in 5 goals to their one. Next came Deerfield, the first real test of our ability. At the half of a hotly contested game the score was 1-0 Kent, but Deerfield came back to finish one up, 2-1. Two factors hurt us, Deerfield's ability to substitute players as good as their starters, and our lengthening string of injured players. Right wing, Dave D'arcy was lost for almost the entire season, while several others emerged limping.

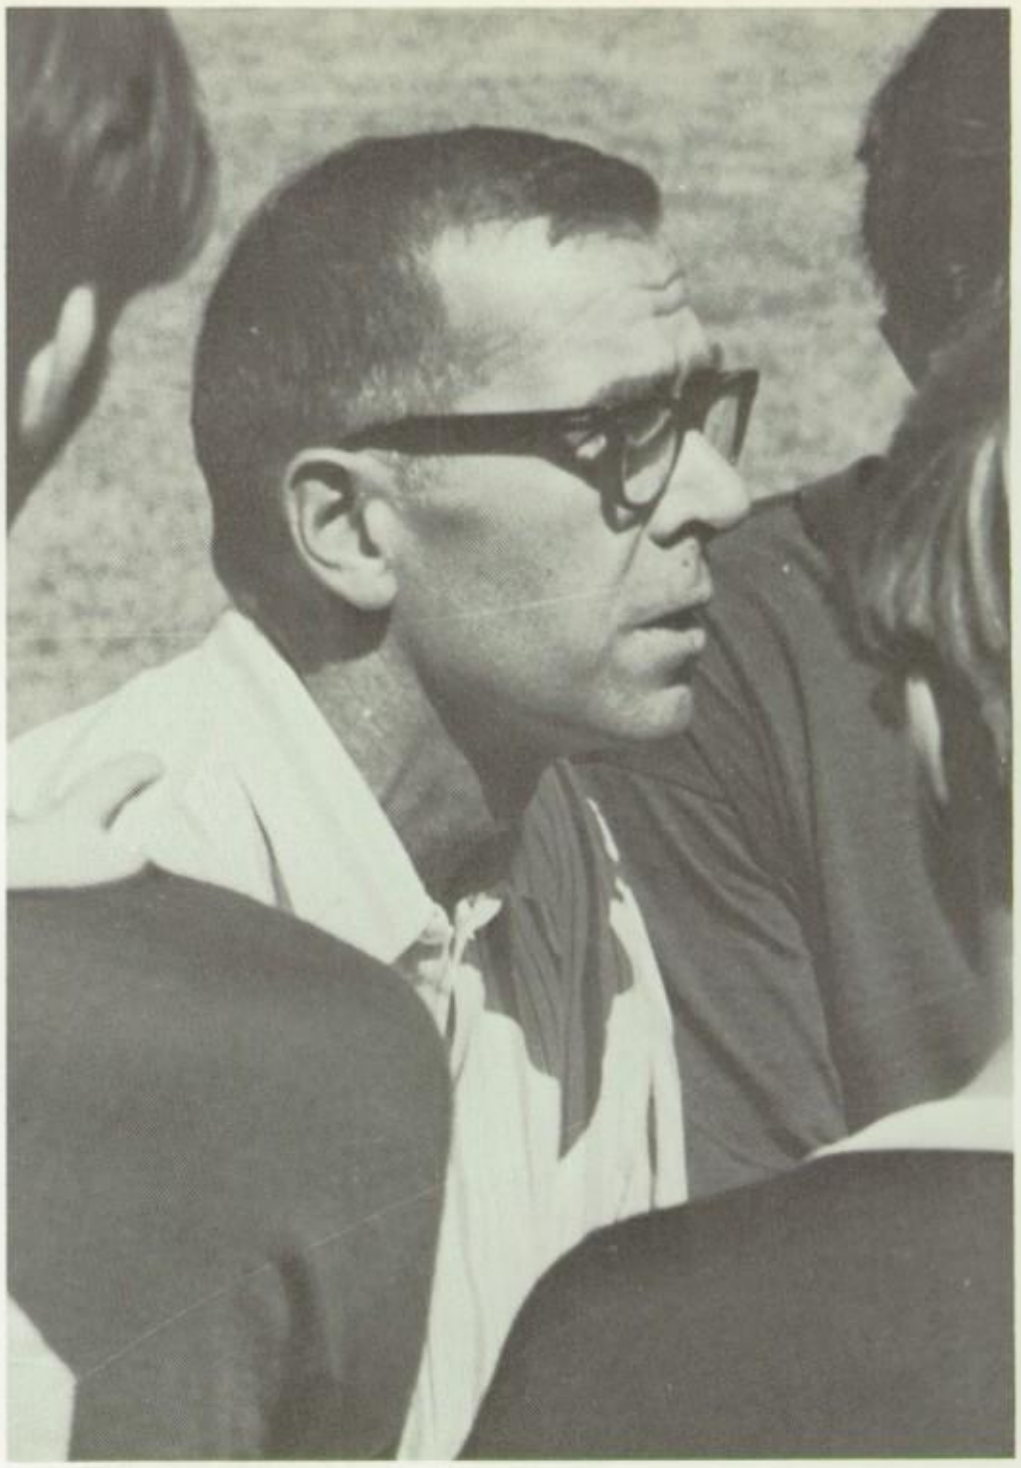
All the same we pulled together as we blanked Chesire 5-0, Cave contributing his annual one score. Next came the big Choate game. Nothing went right and even Choate's liberal application of shoulders and elbows went unnoticed by the ref's seeing-eye dog. 3-1 Choate. Angry, we travelled to Kingswood looking for an easy win. Instead, we played the worst soccer ever played by Kent. Even the coach's and captain's halftime talks couldn't rouse us from a 5-3 loss. The less said, the better.



Suffield's undefeated international squad travelled to play us at home on Mother's Weekend in a game considerably improved since Kingswood. Despite Kent's control of the larger part of the game and a half-time switch to a new 5-2-3 system which we kept for the remaining 8 games, we just couldn't score while our opponents tallied once each period. Leaving Suffield the victor of a 1-0 game with a score of 4-0, we take our hats off to the ref and to Suffield's eight ringers; East Africa, West Africa, England, and, for diplomacy's sake, Connecticut each added once to our defeat.

At this point we stood 2-4 for the season. Coach Partridge and Capt. Vallas fired us up and we put it together over Hopkins 3-1. Undefeated Berkshire, eventual league champs, were next. We played perhaps the best soccer of the season only to lose a heart-breaker 3-2 in the last 7 seconds of double overtime on a goal scored by Glenn Partridge, son of the Kent coach. Almost convinced of a jinx, we played a very poor first half against a hustling Taft squad, but then the line went wild, scoring twice in 30 seconds and adding one more later to give us a 4-1 win. T.P. watched in awe as Big Diaper Betz walked away with 3 of our 11 scores in all 11-2 rout.

Played in the mud, sleet sub-freezing temperatures, N.Y.M.A., slipped, literally, 8-1. We thawed in time to avenge last year's tie with Loomis by soundly trouncing them 3-1 in a totally Kent dominated game. Hotchkiss, our final league contest, brought a return of our scoring troubles. In a game similar to Suffield, we proved unable to tally as our opponents, added by an English P.G. who played semi-pro in Britain, converted 2 of 22 shots into scores. Final score 2-0, Hotchkiss.

Which left the Alumni, a real threat with several former team captains and Penn's present high scorer returning. Seniors played this year, our final Kent game, a beautifully contested 5-5 tie. Surprising for a bunch of old men hopped up on arthritis medicine.

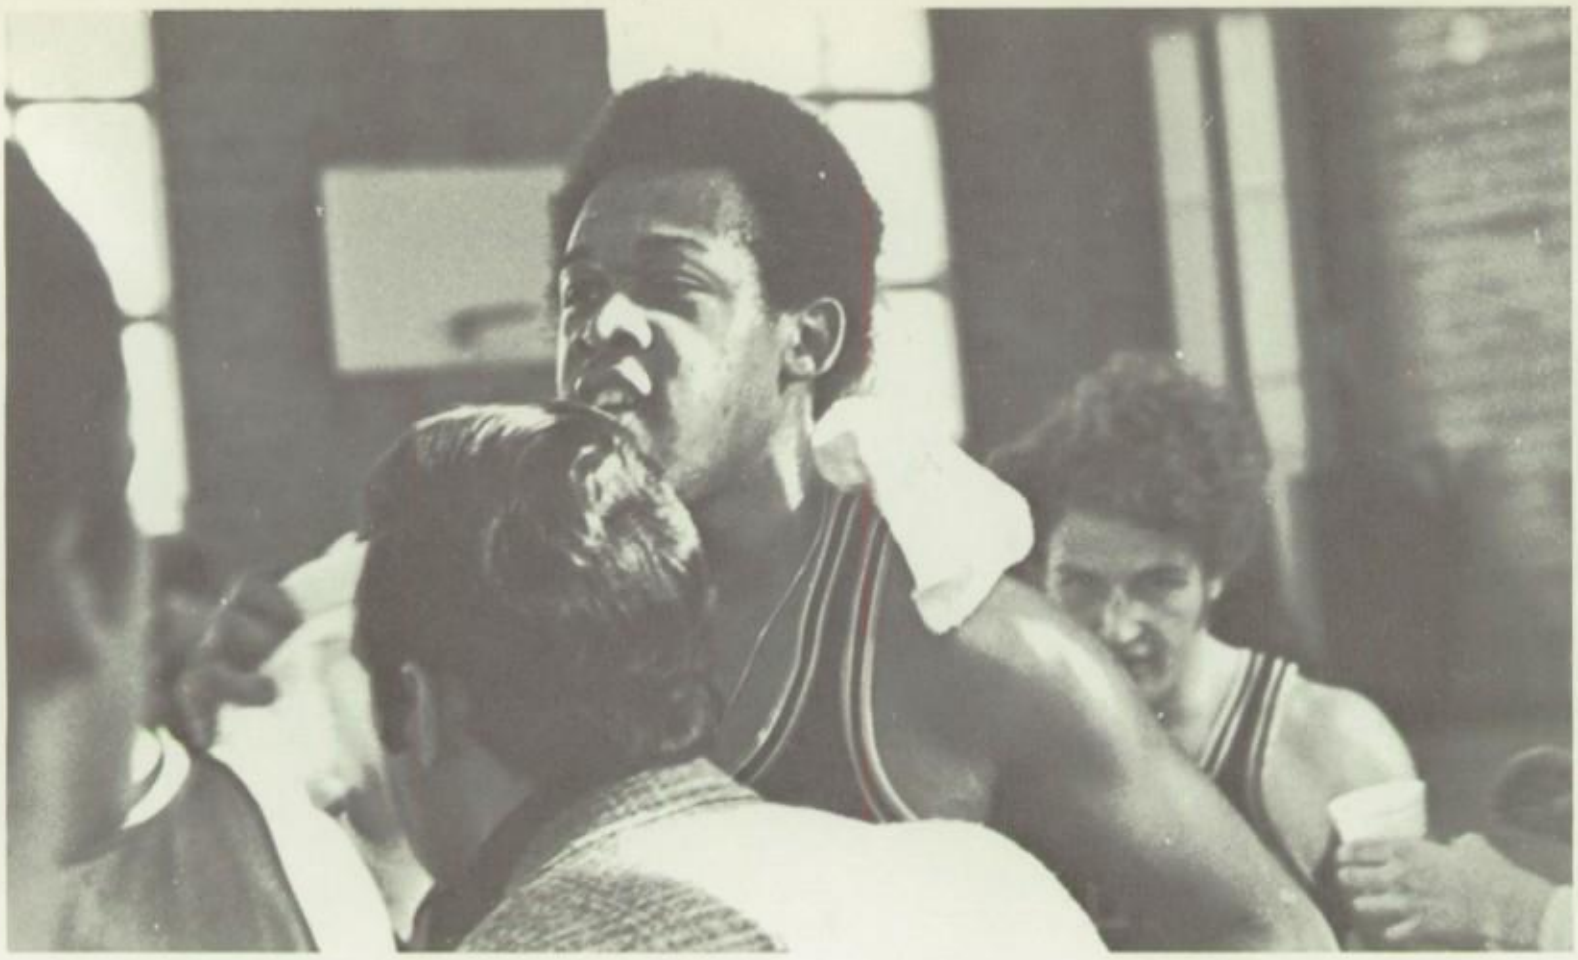
BASKETBALL



Certainly, the main feature of the winter sports season must have been the basketball team. Behind the play of Captain Phil Rogers and the leadership of Coach Robert Morris, what may be called the greatest basketball team in the history of Kent School, compiled a 15-4 record, taking again the Tri-State League Championship and advancing to the second of three rounds in the New England Private School Championships. The team, coached by Mr. Morris and Father Woodward with special help from Mr. Theobold and Mr. DeVillafranca, was led by a starting line-up of Phil Rogers, Ernie Fair, Ted Peterson, Terry Thoren and Pete Lapins, with excellent support from a strong bench.

Kent opened home against Berkshire. The team gave a strong indication of what was to come in the season as it took a 23-5 lead in the first quarter and went to win 74-50, as three players hit in the double figures. Kent showed its ability to play under pressure in the season game against a strong Loomis team, rallying from a 29-18 deficit in the halftime, to win 54-48, behind Phil Rogers' 28 points of the second half.

Kent dominated the Tri-State League as they easily trounced three league opponents, Berkshire, Taft and Trinity Pawling. Then, they met Hopkins Grammar, a non-league opponent — and Phil and his team went wild. When Phil sat down with several minutes left in the third period, he had already smashed his own school game scoring record of 39 with a 43 point performance. Senior forward Ernie Fair then took over scoring duties, finishing with 19 points, a personal high, as Kent rolled to a 94-77 victory, setting a school team scoring record.

Phil settled down against Gunnery, scoring only 23, points, but junior guard Terry Thoren backed him up with 14 as Kent won again, 64-45. But next came Hotchkiss. the team's toughest league opposition. The game see-sawed all the way, but in the end Kent, behind Rogers 42 points, prevailed, 83-79. Kent continued to win as it beat Canterbury, 77-65. The senior team of Rogers and Fair combined for 49 points.

Dreams for an undefeated season ended abruptly on a neutral court at Berkshire as Kent lost a disappointing contest, to a non-league member, Kingswood, 68-62. Rogers again led the scoring for Kent with 31 points, but the Kingswood backcourt duo of Lambert and Stratos combined for 53 points. Kent recovered in its next game by crushing Gunnery, 84-62, behind Rogers' record tying 43 points.

This season was not without further disappointments though. In a heartbreaking game on the home court, Kent dropped the first league game to archrival Hotchkiss, 76-73. Hotchkiss led by 15 late in the third quarter, while Kent rallied to lead by 6 at 69-63, only to lose that lead to a Hotchkiss spurt in the final minute of play. The only bright spot was Pete Lapins' 18 point effort. After a brilliant junior season, Pete had started slowly this year.

For taking the Tri-State League, Kent received its first bid to the New England Private School Championships. Playing in class B, Kent faced Loomis in the quarter finals. The game was one of the tightest, most exciting of the year. When the smoke had cleared and the final buzzer sounded, Kent led 76-72. Phil Rogers again led the Kent team with 37 points. He received strong support from Terry Thoren and Ted Peterson, who both scored 11 points. Kent won the game from the foul line, hitting an amazing 24 out of 30 foul shots.

Kent next took a break from the tough NEPS championship circuit to play the League All-Stars. The subs played most of the game and Toby Miller responded by scoring his only points of the season, 11 of them. The team rolled to an easy victory. After the game, Kent received the championship trophy for another year.

Kent rebounded from the Hotchkiss loss to obliterate Taft, 89-56, as Rogers, Lapins and Fair, the "70 three" scored 27, 17, and 19 points respectively. But playing without Phil, they lost their third game to Westminister, 63-57, in spite of a career high of 23 points from Ernie Fair and a strong 17 point performance from sophomore Ted Peterson.

Kent played its next game without Phil, but this time winning over Canterbury 72-56. Playmaker Terry Thoren played with a hot hand as he scored 20 points. His backcourt partner Bill Bruckman set a personal high of 16 points. This victory officially clinched Kent's second Tri-State League title. Kent then closed the regular season by crushing Trinity Pawling, 78-68, as Phil Rogers scored 40 points and set still another record by hitting 19 field goals in a single game.

Then came the Assumption game. Assumption had gained the semifinals by defeating a powerful Robinson team. Kent was there on the strength of the Loomis game. The game was the closest, most exciting of the year. Kent played a fantastic defensive game against a smaller but faster team. Ernie Fair played a strong offensive game with 15 points and blocked several shots. However Phil Rogers had a poor shooting game. He was strong off the boards, though, and when he fouled out (for the first time this year) with just less than a minute left, his absence was sorely felf. Still Kent stayed close to the buzzer, losing a heartbreaker, 63-62. Assumption went on to win the championship.

In site of the disappointment which marked the end of the season, it was a fantastic season. Rogers strengthened his hold on virtually every scoring record on the school books and pulled way into the lead on the rebounding list. Ernie Fair scored 207 points to provide strong support for captain Phil. Captain – elect Terry Thoren shattered the season's record for assists with 118. The team will miss the talents of Phil Rogers, Ernie Fair, Pete Lapins, Bill Bruckman and Toby Miller next year. Coach Morris is also leaving. But the returners will be led by Terry Thoren, captain-elect and co-winner of the MVP Tropy with Phil Rogers, and include Ted Peterson, Norman Kristoff, winner of the trophy for most improved player this year. Along with them will be Tom Childs and Lance Slaughter who saw only limited action this season, but still proved their worth to the team. Even though it's getting redundant, it is still great to say: WE'RE STILL NUMBER ONE!

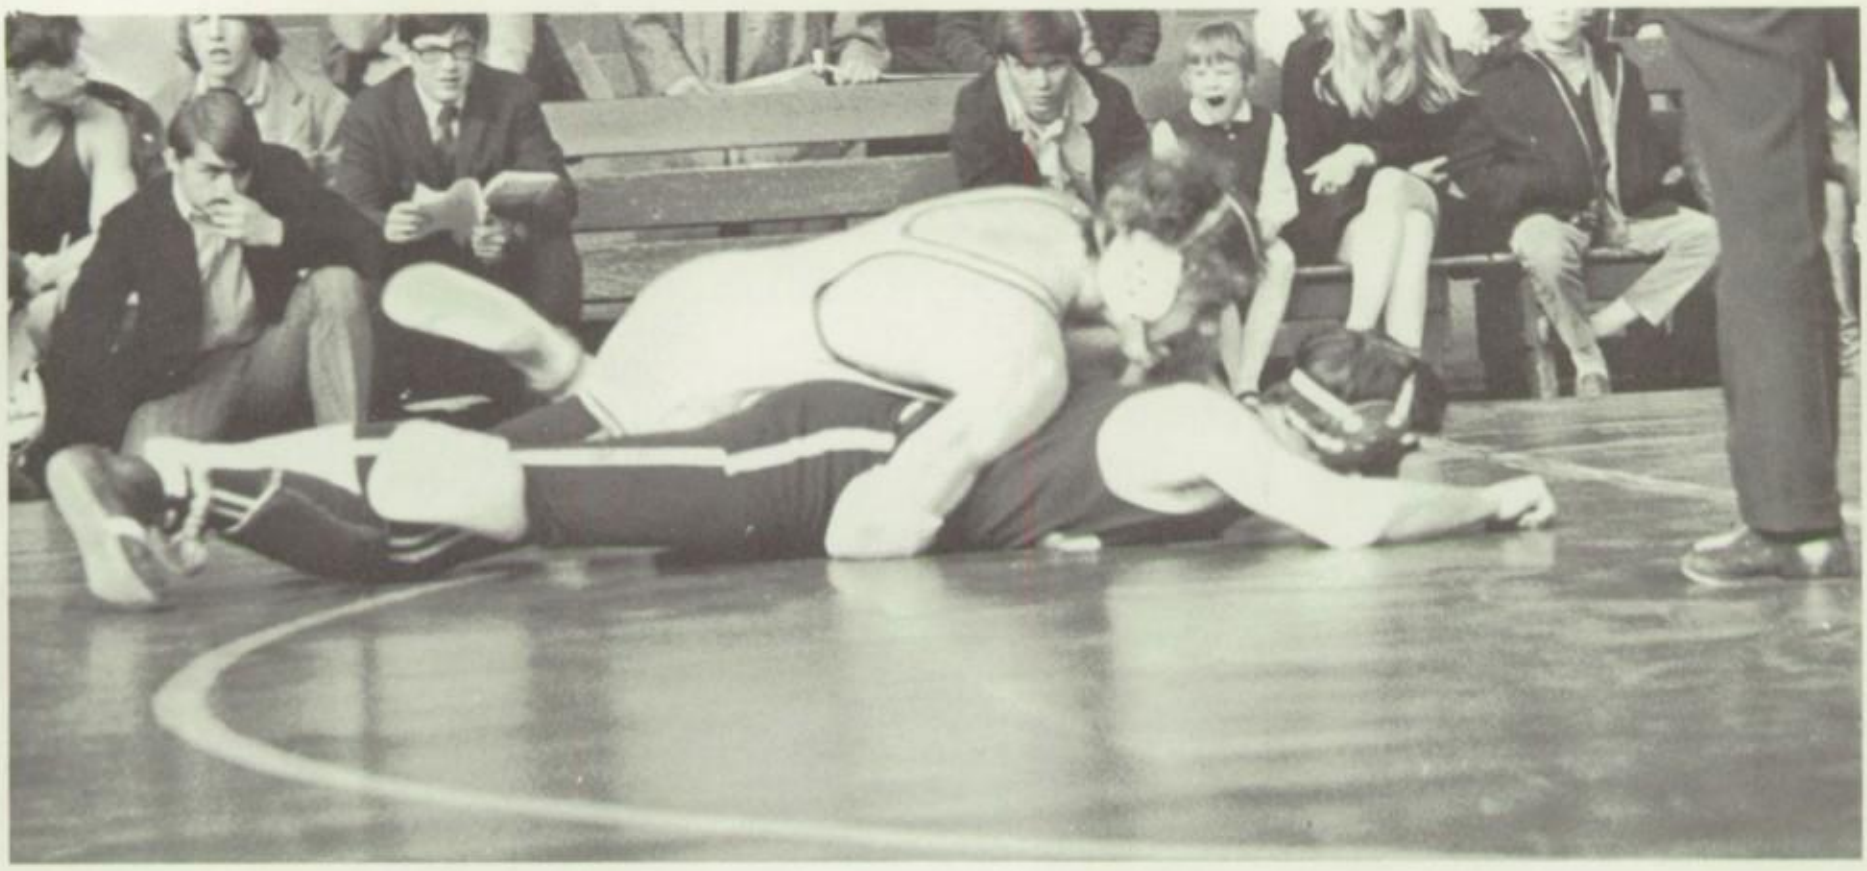
WRESTLING



Fairhurst makes it at the Connecticuts

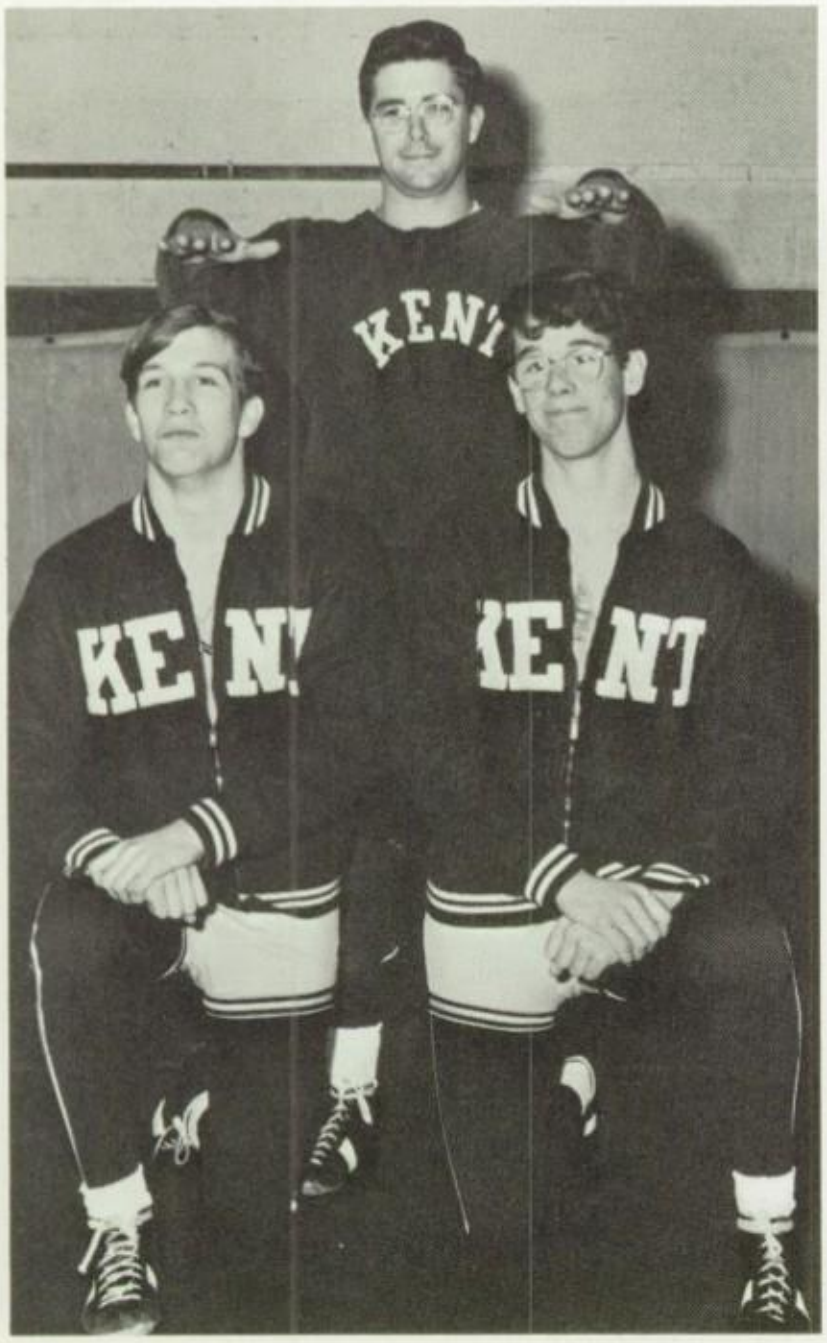
Because wrestling is more individual and personal than any other sport, a review of the individuals is much more significant to the wrestlers and their fans than a season review. This kind of personal review is, the writer believes, much more important than any individual or team record, which is merely statistics, could ever be.

The number one wrestler in any Kent wrestler's mind is, of course, Compton Chase. Compton has compiled, in two years at Kent, a fantastic two years of undefeated seasons in dual meet competition and in the state tournament. But Compton has provided more than that in his role of captain of our team, he has a driving force, a leading spirit which helped us grope around and find victory on some occasions and come close on others. Compton has been given the rare honor of being called "one of the few truly great Kent Wrestlers" by O. B. Davis, and he was a "great Kent wrestler" not merely because of his wrestling ability, but also because of his leadership to the team. In the state tournament Compton pinned his first opponent and decisively beat his next two opponents to get first place laurels at the 138 lb. weight class.

Captain-elect Peter Fairhurst has proved himself competent to take over Compton's position both on the mats and off. Peter's spirit this season gave a needed lift to the team, and on the mat he showed himself to be a wrestler worthy of the team's respect. And we seniors wish Pete and the team the best of luck next year and in the years to come.

Jamie Hendon alias "the Canadian Mounty" got the trophy for the most spirited wrestler because "he always got his man." Jamie contributed a lot to the team and proved himself to be a real threat to his opponents both on and off the mat. Jamie will be missed by the team next year but we are glad that his final record was a winning one.

Writhing at the 145 pound spot was Duncan Browne, the wrestling team's high flying ace. Besides being of great value to the squad during meets he was the necessary asset to the daily grind of wrestling practice. Duncan was the comic relief. Frequently with contorted maneuvers he amazed the coaches as well as himself and the team, and he provided us with glimpses of coming styles; i.e., the flying grapevine; a sacrificial commitment. Duncan kept us toned and happy with his spirit and he was an example of true schoolboy sportsmanship.



The infamous "Big" Al Somoza was the anchor man on the team wrestling at unlimited. Al was vastly outweighed by all of his opponents (usually by 50 or 60 lbs.) and therefore his season was not outstanding. However, Al proved himself to be a very competent wrestler and he showed the team that his skill and spirit could vanquish his opponents' extra weight and muscle. Al will be a good wrestler next year as a result of this year's experience and his knowledge of wrestling and also because of his indomitable spirit.

Doug Frost at 167 was one of the team's strongest and best wrestlers. He always wrestled good hard bouts and usually he came out on top. Doug had fine spirit and a winning attitude, and as a result of this he won most of his matches. We hope that Doug will change his mind and wrestle next year, because the team needs him, and wrestling at Kent needs him.

James Harvey Johnson at 182 was perhaps one of the team's most aggressive and certainly one of the most spirited wrestlers. Although he lost a few matches at the end of the season his spirit was never crushed and he always wrestled his best, which is all we ask of any wrestler. James will do much better next year and we wish him luck.

Jim Andrews at 133 fought well against some tough opponents. Jim was an aggressive, hard fighting wrestler and he too wrestled all-out all the time. We are confident that Jim will do better next year and we wish him the best of luck.

Mike Truslow at 127 was in a very good weight class, and he wrestled well against his excellent opponents. Mike's general attitude won him the dubious honor of the D.B.S.A. Trophy, Mike is Duncan's hand-picked protege. We hope that Mike does better next year, and we wish him the best of luck.

A newcomer, Bill Freiberg at 121, was in perhaps the toughest weight class and he proved himself worthy of his Varsity position. Bill had outstanding spirit and gained from this year's experience. We know Bill will be a vast asset to next year's team.

Thad Bennett at 115 was one of the team's better wrestlers. Thad a good spirit and wrestled well in all of his matches, especially in the state tournament. Thad will help the team a great deal next year and we wish him luck.

The duel at 110 provided the team with some excellent prospects for next year in Art Powers and Roger Stewart. Both wrestlers are tough scrappers, and both have excellent spirit, We hope that they both do well next year and we wish them luck.

Ending his career at Kent, Captain Compton Chase received "the Wing Trophy" for the second year in a row. "The Wing Trophy" goes to the outstanding wrestler of the year and Compton certainly qualifies. James Hendon won "the Ferguson Bowl" for the most spirited wrestler on the team. Thad Bennett received "the Coaches Cup" for the most improved wrestler, and Murray Beach won the most valuable non-letter winner trophy. Finally, the coveted D.B.S.A. Award went from Duncan Browne to Mike Truslow. This award goes to the wrestler whose attitude in the most like Duncan's attitude which is, (to quote J.C.) "I came, I saw, and I ran like hell."

All in all the team was spirited and had a lot of potential. And it looks as if next year's team will be more experienced, and should have a much better record. We will miss Compy, Duncan and Jamie, but we'll manage without them somehow. Oh yeah, He did a good job too. Thanks for your patience, Coach Baiter. You gave us something to work for.

HOCKEY

Allen takes a shot on the T.P. Goal

The 1970 Varsity Hockey team, coached by Messrs. Peter Bragdon, Ted Morse and Hart Perry, had an 11-7-2 record, finishing third in the tough Housatonic League.

The season had many high points, but probably the most salient were the 5-3 victory over Hotchkiss before a large crowd at home, and Sandy McAdam's tying goal at Taft during the last seconds.

The team began its season on a sour note at the Christmas Hockey Tournament. Although Kent beat the #1 seated team in the first round, in the second round it lost to Princeton Country Day.

Christmas vacation got everybody back into fine shape, and the team followed its coach out ot the Nadal rink to lose its first game to Trinity College. Next, it travelled to New Haven to meet the Yale J.V.'s and played one of its finest games all season. Sandy Muther scored three goals, but the team lost 5 to 4. The "Whale" will never be forgotten.

Berkshire was Kent's next opponent and the first league game. Kent played well, beating Berkshire on two 3rd period goals by a score of 4 to 3.

Kent beat Hill 5-3 and Westminster 4-1, but both games were merely warm-ups for the Hotchkiss game which followed. The headline in the Kent News told the story as "Kent Shuts out Hotchkiss Despite Slow Start — Fast Hockey Marks Game." This game was one of the season's highlights. Kent played poorly the next game on the Choate rink and lost, 5 to 2.

The South Kent encounter started the second half of the season well, as Kent destroyed South Kent 7-0, outshooting them 43 to 7.

Taft was Kent's next game and we played some of our best hockey. Kent returned with a tie made by a fine shot of Sandy McAdams in the last 46 seconds. It was another of the Kent Hockey season's high points, and not the last.

The team played Choate the following Wednesday and defeated them by a four goal margin. P.D.S., the team which had defeated Kent in the Milton tournament, came to the Nadal rink the following weekend, and the Kent team, remembering its painful loss in Boston, not only beat P.D.S., But shut them out.

Coming from two easy wins, the team did not play well, and earned a crushing defeat at Taft. This loss moved Kent from a tie with Taft for first place in the league to a position of third behind Hotchkiss.

The season passed quickly from there, as Kent beat Trinity Pawling 4-2, tied Hotchkiss in a fast-skating but scoreless game, beat Berkshire 4-1, but lost to Trinity Pawling in the final league game. The loss meant third place in the league with only the Alumni game remaining. The game was preceded by rumors of a semi-pro goalie's, Trevor Waters, return for B.U. and of John Drinker's arrival from Penn. The actual game was somewhat less than had been expected, as John Drinker failed to materalize and the Varsity team won 11-2.

That was the end of the 1970 hockey season, but all those involved will never forget the game in Yale's "Whale", the winning of the Hotchkiss cup, and the coach's boots. In conclusion, the 1970 Varsity Hockey Team wants to especially thank Don Cameron for the fine ice; The Coaches, Bragdon, Morse and Perry; and to wish the next year's team the best of luck in Europe and in the League.

Writer: But I don't know a thing about Senior Hockey. Matter of fact, I'm not even on the staff and besides I'm skipping lunch.

Yearbook Editor: Well look, don't let it worry you. Just write something. Wait, there's Karl, he must know something about Senior Hockey.

Writer: O.K. Karl, what was Senior Hockey's record? Let's hear it straight from a true sports great!

Karl: 1 and 0, I think, yea, maybe.

Writer: Sounds great. What was the game like, Karl; how's it feel to be out there in the thick of it, managing your team to an undefeated, untied, unscored upon perfect season. Putting in those long hours of work and sweat. Capturing the elusive goddess of victory, defying the odds, laughing scornfully in the face of danger, leading the team by your sterling example on the treacherous path to glory, knowing the full weight of responsibility that only a friend and true manager can sustain.

Karl: Well, you see . . . I missed the game, I think . . . on my weekend . . . besides I was the goalie not the manager . . . only never dressed . . . got to go.

Writer: Thanks a lot, Karl. You've really been an inspiration to all those underformers who'll never quite make the grade.

Yearbook Editor: How'd it go?

Writer: Fine, just fine. Just sting me for skipping and you write the article. Please, pretty please?

Yearbook Editor: Just put the facts down on paper and we'll call it even.

G.S. BASKETBALL

Wilford, Walsh II, Ellis, Rives, Noble, Ryan, Childs I.

The 1970 basketball team should be remembered for its fine effort, enthusiasm and good looks. Our bird Willy and his bird Willy Jr. think we're really special and they ought to know, they suffered for us.

It's not that the results of our season was intentional, it's just that Westover's eyebrow, Rosemary's converted swimming pool, Miss Porter's Ritz, and Walker's sundial did not cater to our style. But when St. Mags staged a mock hanging of our bird Willy during their chapel service, we conquered our past humiliations and frustrations to earn our first and last victory.

Although our scores do not reflect the long hours of intense practice under the direction of Johnson and Rives, the team never once failed to exemplify the true Kent spirit and determination. High scorer for the season was Captain Randall Rives with 49 points. Second was Pam Noble with 26 points, and captain-elect for '71, Laurie Ellis with 19 points.

Thanks go to our coach, Miss Johnson, for her continual encouragment and devotion. It was an . . . unusual season . . .

SKIING

The Kent Varsity Ski team raced an amazing season this year considering that the squad was complete for only one race. The team was plagued by sickness, injury, (Brock Brown burned his hands on the rope tow), and disciplinary action. Mr. Neves, and rookie Mr. Perkins, provided the team with a great coaching staff throughout those long afternoons at Mohawk. Captain John Hutchison gave the team excellent coaching near the end.

The returning lettermen were Henrich Vanderlip, Kent Whittenburg, Captain Jon Hutchison and Stan Sneath. Newcomers to the Varsity were Rick Zellweger, Henry Dusenbury, John Beard and Ben Brewster.

Kent's skiers started out the season by defeating six teams in succession: Marvelwood, Suffield twice, Kingswood, Cranwell and Darrow. The Suffield-Kingswood race was a tight one. Whittenburg placed first and Vanderlip third in a rough field. The slalom course was long and complicated, yet it was fast and smooth, a real challenge.

After opening the season so well, Kent then bowed in a perfectly terribly race to Wilbraham. Because we were overconfident, and the course was tight and rough, most of the Kent team fell. Wilbraham racers stood up more than the Kent men, and in so doing took the race. One cheerful note did occur, however, as Captain Hutch, the only Kent racer who stood up, placed first.

The "Green Death" then struck Kent School. Henrich Vanderlip was laid low for the next five races. Kent Whittenburg was also stricken, yet he still appeared at the next race: Berkshire-Salisbury. The race was a disappointment. Stan Sneath turned in the only good Kent time. Captain Hutch had a heartbreaking fall in which he hurt his hip, and Whittenburg, after a good first run, fell on the last gate of his second run.

The team then defeated Millbrook and Williston in a fast, icy slalom. The Hotchkiss race was also a great day for the Kent squad. Victory was sweet in a fast, smooth slalom. It was short-lived, however, as the next race proved disasterous. As a result of a poor showing, we lost league points to Salisbury and Williston.

The Choate-Marvelwood race proved to be our best race of the season. Henrich Vanderlip made a terrific comeback on a slushy, tight, extremely hard course. He finished first, while Rick Zellweger in his finest showing of the year, finished third. The rest of the team did well enough to squeak past the powerful Choate team.

The last league race of the season was frustrating. We went, hoping to beat Berkshire. Whittenburg and Vanderlip turned in excellent times but they were not enough to beat the tough Berkshire and Lenox teams.

The Tri-State slalom was a disaster. After the first run, Vanderlip was second on his course and Whittenburg was fourth on his (there were two separate courses), in the second run. Not one Kent racer made it through both courses without falling. We finished last on the tough, icy course.

The Tri-State Giant Slalom was much brighter, however. The team finished third in a field of 14. Whittenburg finished an individual third and Vanderlip fifth in a field of 60 racers. The course was fast and smooth. It was a good day for the entire team.

The Catamount Invitational was an even better day. Kent finished first in a field of six, finally beating arch-rival Bershire. Kent Whittenburg finished second by only hundredths of a second, while Vanderlip placed third. Whittenburg also received the most-valuable skier award and was elected captain for next year.

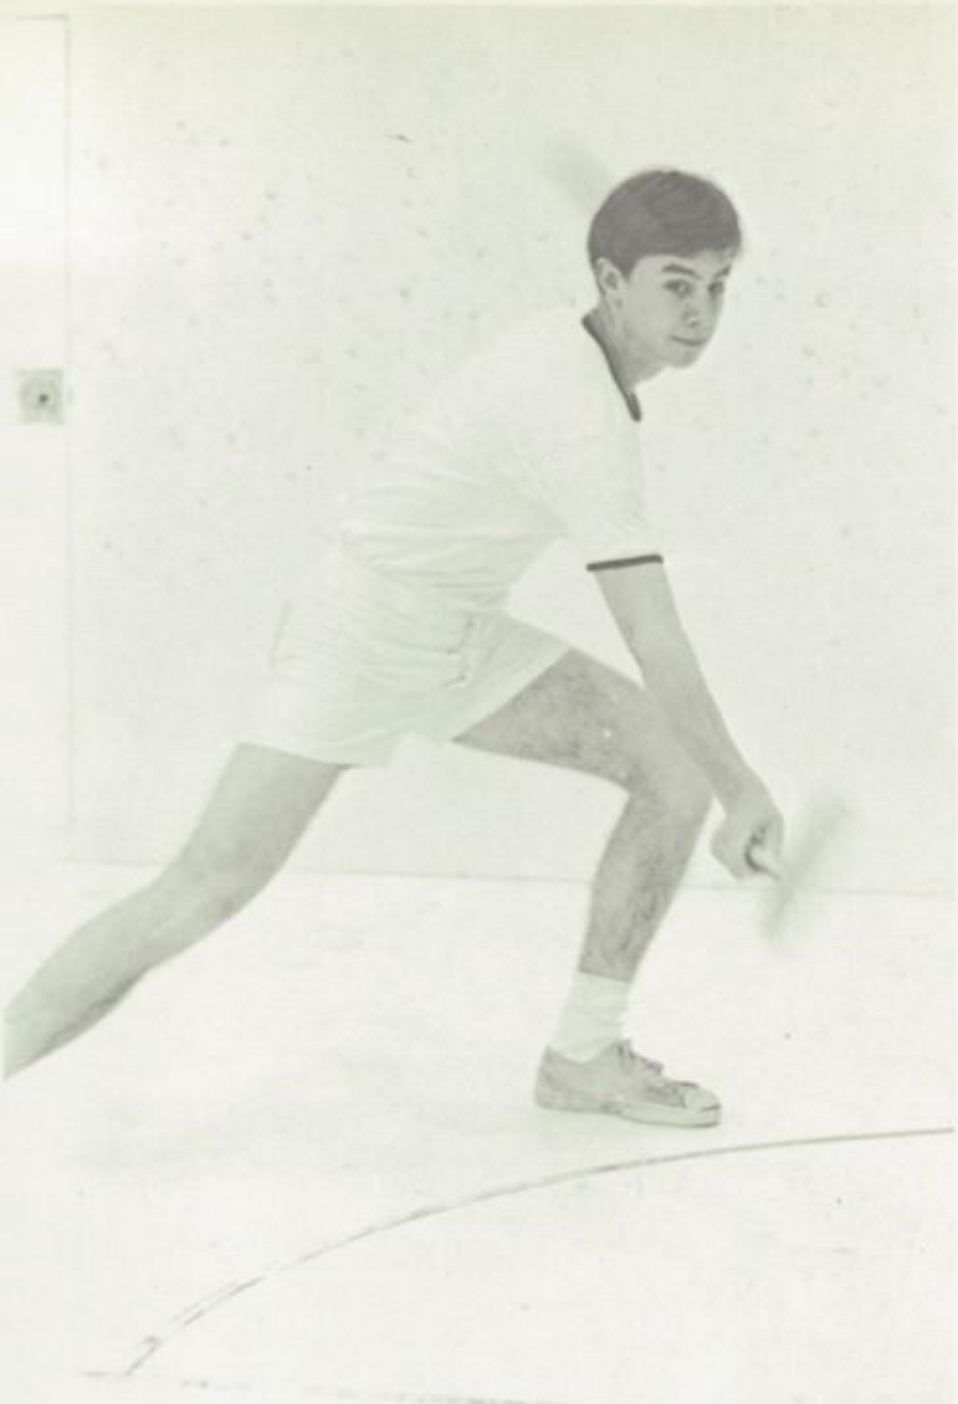
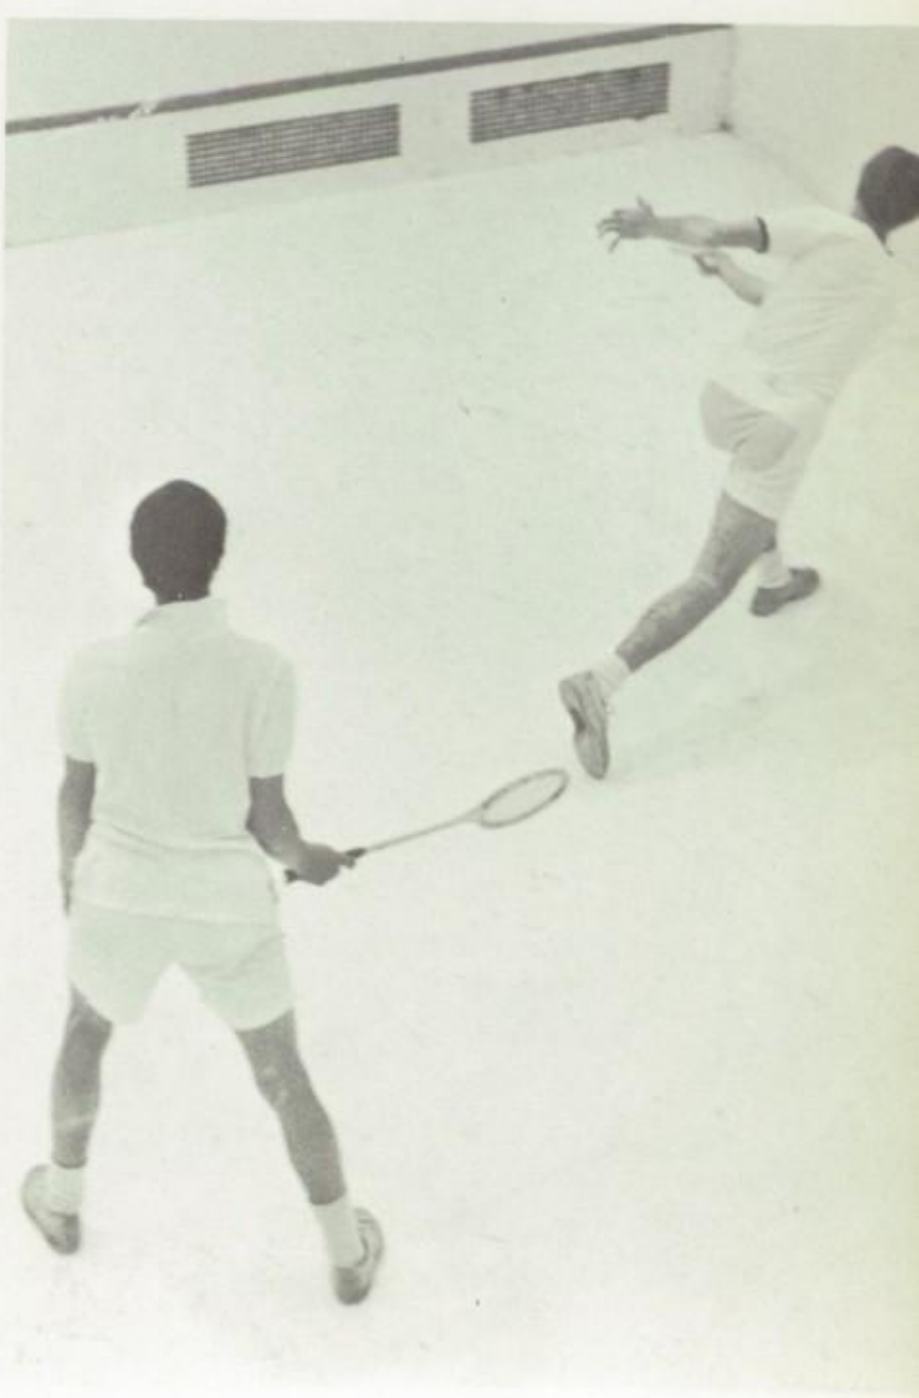
Through perseverence and consistency, this year's varsity squash has produced one of the finest records ever. The entire team returned with the exception of Farook Mir, a sad loss, who, if available might have made this an undefeated season. The competition within the team was fierce all winter; DeNiord and Rorick, holding the first two places respectively, were the only players who retained their positions in every match. Very little indeed separated the other seven players who vied for their positions from the beginning until the end.

Our major strength lay in that scale. We won many matches due to our resources at the bottom of the ladder, where the quality of our game was outstanding for a prep school. Most members on the squad showed great authority and talent, earned from their squash experience of third and fourth form year. Coaches Rand and Humphreys suffered long and labored hard in molding this fine squad in the best of New England tradition.



De Niord Proves To Be One Of The Best Players In The League



Chard DeNiord was consistently fast and powerful. His agility and retrieving power were of such class that he occasionally led himself into over-imaginative shots which got him into trouble. Playing with tremendous verve, he reached the quarter-finals of the National Junior Championship, and only lost in the final round. His resolution and success at the number one position contributed invaluably to the team's many victories. Marv Rorick, elected captain, played a fine, stylish game at number two. He won his games with a quiet concentration, dissolving his opponents with tactic rather than power.

Andy Cooley and Peter Carlisle both played excellently, if sometimes inconsistently for most of the season. Cooley had pace and power along with occasional delicacy. Carlisle fluctuated between the superb shot and the intermittent hit. Both won most of their matches at various positions on the ladder. By the end of the season, Cooley had consolidated his claims to the number three position, and Carlisle had effectively filled the fourth.

Chris Harmer, Bill Whidden and Bob Ewing all played skillful squash and contributed precious points at the bottom of the ladder. Harmer was always busy, Ewing counteracted his slowness with many superbly executed shots, while Whidden was the epitomy of quiet consistent labour. J. D. Hutchison maintained the English tradition with dry humour and some fine squash, adding diversity to the team.

Although the season did not officially start until the first match against Deerfield in January, most players had been building and refining their strokes and bodies since the latter part of fall term. Christmas vacation sufficiently "untrained" everyone, for we were ill-prepared for the Deerfield team who crushed us 7-0. We found no satisfactory or truthful excuses for our beating; They were good and they made us a humble team for the rest of the season.

In the matches against Trinity Pawling and Berkshire, we compiled a score of 27-1. Neither did the colleges offer any great challenge. Yale freshmen fell 0-3, Amherst freshmen, 0-1, West Point, 0-7. We overwhelmed Trinity freshmen 9-0. In previous years, college teams have defeated Kent squads handily. Our closest match was with Choate who defeated us 4-3.

Marv Rorick, Monkey Carlisle and John Hutchison will have taken their various ways by next year, but there is much talent and potential that remains, possibly enough to better this year's 8-2 record.

CREW

The 1970 season was predicted to be, on paper, one of great sorrow. With no returning oarsmen from the Varsity, Mr. Perry faced the lowest tide Kent had had in years. Nobody except the people immediately concerned thought Kent could win, and we would not have it any other way.

It took time to find and develop the Varsity. And during that development, we raced the Yale Lightweights, and got cleaned. But on the bus ride back from Derby, one could see that we had not folded as a crew. It would take more than one loss early in the season to discourage us.

For about 10 days we looked for the right combination, the right swing, and the right form. And in a headwind at Lake Waramug, we found it all. Against a giant Washington-Lee boat, in a terrible headwind, the Varsity ground up the Generals.

The coach of the Generals, Charlie Butt, said its best: "Those Kent boys are tough as nails, and when they go out there to row, they mean business."

We went to Mount Hermon to race a boat filled with last summer's Youth National Champions. Hermon was a real test of this crew. First, it was an away race, unfortunate grounds for a close battle; second, it was the proof to the crew as well as to the public that the win over Washington-Lee wasn't a fluke. We rowed well and beat them thoroughly. It was a refreshing victory to end the first part of the big season. Our constant companions, the JV's also won their first race against a good MH boat.

We started the uphill climb towards Stotesbury. A few small races, a disappointingly slow opponent at Father's Weekend all passed by, and the crew became surer and surer that they were the best. During this time, the JV boat provided a real threat every practice. They pushed the Varsity constantly.

The Wednesday before Stotesbury, as a last minute boost, we scrimmaged with the Trinity First Freshmen, who had won the small college freshmen crown just the week before. Poole was number five on their boat, and they all were about his size. After see-saw pieces of races, Mr. Perry called out the last 500 meter sprint.

Throughout the day, we would jump Trinity by one length in the first 25 strokes, and then they would move back on us. The piece before they had moved right through and beaten us on a 1000 meter sprint. We were not going to have that again. Once more, in the last sprint, we jumped them by a little more than a length. Trinity took leg drives, and moved back; But we refused to relinquish any ground. We took leg drives and gained back the whole length.

Again, Trinity started leg drives, and started moving on us. But right there, for perhaps the first time since W-L , we just shut the door on a challenging crew. We took leg drives and walked away from them. With 10 strokes to go, we sprinted and gained open water. After that, we were sure we could take anybody on.

We reached Philadelphia in those spirits. In the heats, we beat J.E.B. Stuart High School, and were in a good lane for the finals. But we had one more lesson to learn, and we were to learn the hardest way possible.

All season long, we had relied on our quick start to put us ahead, so we could wear the opposing crew down. In the finals, we didn't get ahead. We were third in the pack all the way down, behind Roosevelt and Holy Spirit, and at the ¾ mile, everyone started sprint, but we didn't have one. We slipped from 3rd to 5th.

It took a few days to pull out of defeat. And Stotesbury 1970 will not be forgotten for a long time. But it is not the whole season, and it is not the yard stick by which one measures all things. That's what we kept telling ourselves. But we had learned a lesson.

The next week, at the NEIRA, we put the whole season down in a hundred and eighty strokes, ending it with what we had learned the week before. In the finals, we led for the first half, but St. Paul's came past us with a quarter mile to go. The spectators on the shore saw the culmination of a whole Kent Varsity season. All things were to be counted in the last judgment.

Kent came right back on St. Paul's, and sprinted away in the closing strokes to win by almost a half a length.

This year's crew is the thing we all row for. The combinations were great. The spirit was unique, and the desire to be the best overcame what were said to be insurmountable odds: size, experience, strength.

But without Mr. Perry, and this year's part time assistant, Mr. Hobbs, our desire would be only sound and fury. And when you hear an oarsman say there is something beside him that makes him go, called a "Hart", don't laugh.

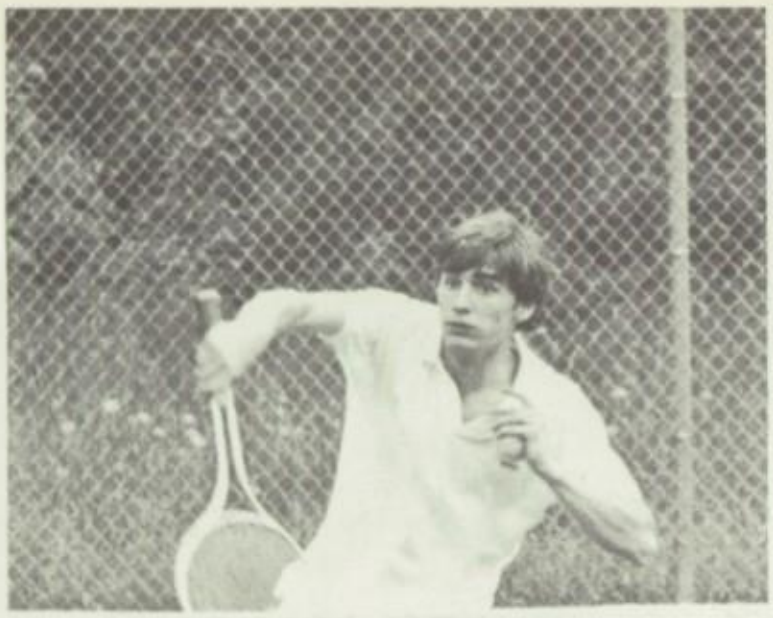
TENNIS

One might say, after looking at this year's Varsity tennis team's record of 2 wins and 8 losses, that this season was a disappointing one for the players and the coach. But there is much more to a tennis season than just having a winning record. A winning record doesn't always make a good season (although it certainly helps). A team has a good season when the players enjoy playing tennis together under the direction of their coach in the best possible spirit of competition and sportsmanship that governs the sport. I think this year's team would have been able to enjoy playing tennis together under any circumstances.

That ability to enjoy tennis the way it should be enjoyed, win or lose, was probably due to the extraordinary people who comprised this year's team, who always provided a relaxed atmosphere. What other tennis team can boast such magnanimous personalities as Captain Tom Childs; the man with the glistening T2000 steel racket, the sleek silvery Slazenger, his own cheerleader, never far away, and whose angle shots at net make his opponents begin to wonder if his tennis racket isn't curved like a hockey stick. If any athlete has all the essential shots of tennis and more, this guy does. Speed, strength, and skill are displayed equally in his game. We even have a "tennis prefect" in Talbot Miller, playing number two which beats a "ping-pong prefect" any time. Toby's whiplash tongue combining with a lightening quick wit probably wrecks more havoc upon the opposing team's ego than if he had beaten his opponent 6-0, 6-0. Not only do the opposing teams take the brunt of his searing comments, but also our "long, bush-haired, and hippy" coach Humphreys has become Toby's target on several occasions. Over the season a battle of wits has taken place between these two humorous characters. Promotion of the match by the team includes referees, a running commentary and a score-keeper. The score stands at 6-3, 5-4 in favor of our super-sarcastic member of the team, and it looks as if the younger generation is about to score a victory. But Coach Humphreys has been rallying fast in the last set and it looks as if he might tie the score. Unfortunately, the outcome of this witty match will probably never be known since the match has been discontinued due to the termination of this year's tennis season, and therefore the termination of road trips in which thrilling episodes of that mind-expanding match took place. It is doubtful whether this battle of wit will ever be continued or finished in the future. There is a slight chance, though, that additional action may take place at the interscholastic tennis tournament at Manusing.

Next in the line of celebrities is senior Marv Rorick, alias "Motorboat Marv", who is probably the best all-around racket man at Kent School. Once Marv gets his motor wound up there is no stopping him. He just put-puts around the court in the most consistently effective way that makes you want to walk up to him, take his nice shiny T2000 Wilson steel tennis racket, wrap it around his cute little head and dare him to ever use it as anything other than a fly swatter. But more than likely this very impulsive action would not phase Marv in the least, although it might produce a chuckle or two. Marv laughs when most people cry or storm about in anger. It's great to be able to laugh when you have just missed a delicious set-up when you needed that game to stay in the match, but one fails to see the humor in that particular situation. Maybe Marv will explain the humor of it to us sometime. Another one of Marv's outstanding traits is his excellent memory for forgetting things like socks, shoes, shirts, head, and other articles a person might need to play tennis. You would think he doesn't like to play the sport or something, but somehow good ol' "motorboat" Marv usually ends up on top as witnessed by the fact that Marv was the biggest point winner for the team this season.

After Marv on the ladder comes the only Southpaw on the team. "Cools," short for Andy Cooley, has had an erratic season, playing poorly in the first part and better in the last part. Probably the most notorious thing about Andy on the tennis court is his extraordinary ability to blow a nice easy set-up of an overhead at the wrong time. Only he doesn't chuckle about it, and when he is playing doubles, nor does his partner, Tom Childs. But Cools has done all right this season as he has pulled in the second highest number of points for the team.



The youngest star of this year's varsity is John Glover, the only fourth former on the team. "Glove", as he is commonly called, has a topspin forehand that's hard to believe. Well, they say seeing is believing and if you had been at the Westminster match this year, and had seen Glove smash himself in the mouth with the follow-through from this amazing shot you would have no doubts as to the damaging effects of the play. Whether the shot damages Glove more or his opponent more is another question, but for Glove's sake he really ought to stop trying that shot before he gets it perfected and knocks himself out someday. John does have some great shots which are going to get a lot better with the added experience of varsity tennis.

Next on the ladder is John Armitage. "Armie" got all his tennis experience in Iran where he would play for two hours, then go off to lie down in the shade and have his group of attentive girl-servants hover around him, fanning and feeding him. Then he'd manage to pull himself up, find his racket, and head back out to the court for another two hours of tennis. Armie doesn't have any girls to fan him and shade him from the sun over here, and so he has resorted to a floppy tennis hat to protect him from sun stroke. Armie is never without his tennis hat although he is occasionally without his tennis shoes for a match. As a result of all the forgetful incidents this season, a club has been formed, "Tennis forgetables", with Marv as president, Armie as vice president, and Tom Childs, honorary member. Armie adds a great deal of luster to the team since we can boast an international star.

The last member of this year's team, is Bill Wirene, better known as "Wyro". He is the muscle of the team. He is best known for eating, growling, and breaking new tennis rackets. Wyro probably hits the ball harder than anyone else on the team. Yet he gives the team the most support when he teams up with Armie to make an unbeatable third doubles team.

Well, these were the seven great guys who comprised the team this year, under the expert coaching of Mr. Humphreys. The coach not only aids the team in improving their games but his good humor and unending patience makes him indeed a pleasure to work with.

BASEBALL

The baseball season had a few surprises, and everyone gained a lot of experience. Our record, 5-10, was not indicative, of the way we played, for we vacated the league cellar too, well, I'll be diplomatic and not name the winner of the derby; for we knocked off a few of the bullies.

The season started when 17 varsity prospects trickled down to Florida for the Rollins Cup. Unprepared and inexperienced we lost the cup and Tom Van Benschoten for most of the season because of mono. Two days after the start of Spring Term Salisbury payed us a visit, beating us 3-0. Only Terry Kobayashi's pinchhit in the bottom of the ninth prevented a no-hitter.

We corrected one weakness as we got 10 hits against Choate's 11, but discovered another, as we booted the game away. The final score was 16-6. Our third game of the season was away, at Cheshire. Cheshire had just demolished Loomis 22-6 and made the mistake of reading our box score. Putting together a good game, we took them down a notch by beating them 7-3. Ernie pitched one of his better games, and we discovered that we had to put Zellweger ahead of Lapins in the batting order. Kent then beat Suffield 6-5, behind the arm of "Smiley" Getsinger before a home crowd herein we gained our first league victory in two years. We almost made it three in a row, but as the old saying goes 'close but no cigars', and we lost to Taft in the bottom of the ninth 7-6. The highlight of the game was "Red" Piatelli's shot into the Taft science building. We discovered another way of losing – to an 11 man team. Somehow we lost a 4-2 victory 4-3 in 11 innings to Berkshire. We could have remained in the bus and played a better game against Hopkins Grammar, losing 7-2.

Rapping with Sports Illustrated photographer

The second half of the season started when Sports Illustrated covered our game with the Alumni, as Foster Sanford returned again. He lost, however, as Captain Lapins secured a 6-5 victory. Kent then played the big bad Kissies at home, hoping to bat against their star pitcher, "tape man"; but instead they threw their Junior at us and eeked out a 4-2 victory. The second Taft game was as disappointing as the first, as we blew a lead and lost another close game 4-2. Our outfield corps of Piatelli, Zellweger and Johnson could have used a few sculls. We took out the Kingswood disaster on Gunnery as Duke Petty bunted in the decisive run in a 3-2 victory. Harvey Johnson rocked out one for his Leprechaun, Kris, but we lost to Loomis, 9-7. Trinity Pawling outhit us, winning 13-7, and we re-discovered what the coach called "humers". Big "Red" hit another big one in the contest. Ernie Fair turned in a great game, concluding his Kent career, as we beat Hotchkiss and the "tape man" 4-3. The Kissies couldn't stop the Sophomore Corps of Vinnie Davis and Scot Perry even though Zuckerman caught eight innings with a broken ankle after stopping a Kissy from scoring. The season had ended, Hotchkiss had been given their reward.

The team consisted of six capable Seniors Pete Lapins, Ernie Fair, George Florentine, John Hanford, Terry Kobayashi and Rick Zellweger, Juniors Peter Getsinger, Steve Harris, Harvey Johnson, Dave Petty, Larry Piatelli and Dave Zuckerman, and Sophomores Vinnie Davis,

PRESENTING CILLA AND HER G.S. TENNIS TEAM

We all know that in order to have a victorious tennis season there must be many important factors that make up an undefeated team. We did have a great tennis coach, Mr. deVillafranca; we did have a brilliant, yet modest tennis captain, Cilla Whiteman; and we poured forth tons of spirit. Contrary to earlier opinion, we have left out the most important, and perhaps most essential factor. What we have overlooked is the endless manpower and extreme devotion found in the TENNIS TEAM PLAYER. Now, before we get boo-ed by our captain, we would like to tell you what goes into being such great tennis players. First, we were a team that was always ready and willing to play, and if we didn't play, we would watch and cheer loudly. We showed great sportsmanship and never cursed or swore at our opponents. We were also very polite on the courts and always smiled (even when we were 5 games behind.) We were always in top physical shape and were never on the inactive list so as to miss any practices or games. We never went to New York or to the movies so that we could always play. Unlike our captain, we never took weekends so as to miss games.

One thing we did do, which is perhaps the most important, was worship our captain. Although we admit that we were great tennis team players, we would have been lost without the dedication and leadership of our Cilla. She was always there to guide us, encourage us, and insure us total victory. We were also proud of our captain's great show of modesty when she said, at the Annual Spring Sports Banquet, that Robin Bo-Bo Bodell would have no problem following in her footsteps.

Another thing we did which, of course, made us such a terrific team was WIN. And if we did lose our match, we showed such skill and determination that our loss was a mistake. And did we ever win!!! We had an UNDEFEATED season with a final score 8-0.

We beat Westover, Miss Hall's and Dobbs all 5-3, and Rosemary Hall 5-2. We slipped by Porter's and Ethel Walker's with a score of 3-2. (They didn't bring enough doubles players, whom we would have none the less beaten.) We slaughtered St. Mag's and Forman 6-0 and 5-0.

The season would never have been complete if we hadn't played mixed faculty doubles in which Dele and SNT were the stars. And of course we had a traditional face-pummel-picnic at Mr. D.V.'s. There's one more thing we would like to add, and that's that we never could have made it without a DUCK (not an armidillo) as our manager.

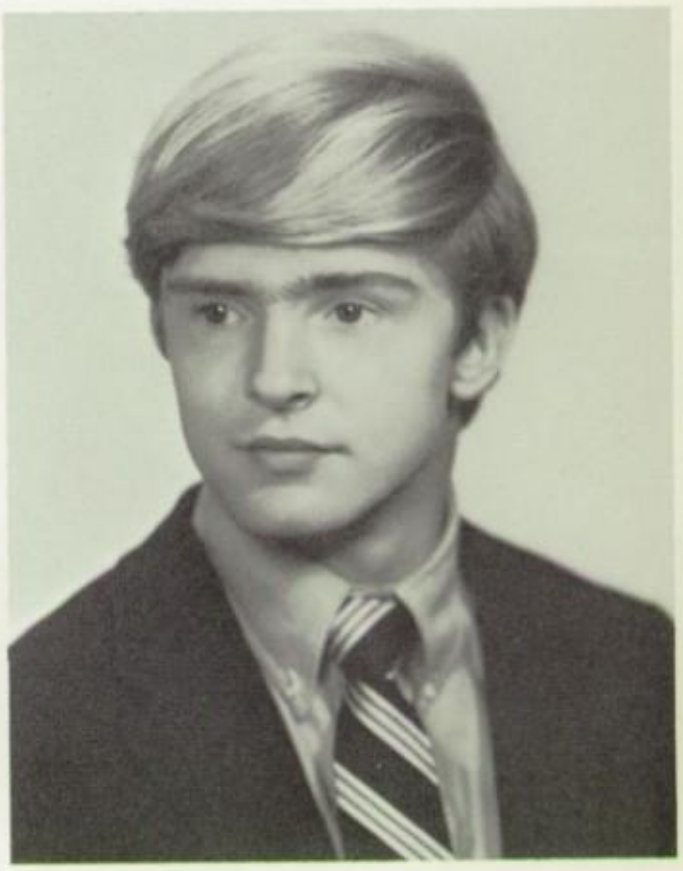
And death shall have no dominion.
No more may gulls cry at their ears
Or waves break loud on the seashores;
When blew a flower may a flower no more
Lift its head to the blows of the rain;
Though they be mad and dead as nails,
Heads of characters hammer through the daisies;
Break in the sun till the sun breaks down,
And death shall have no dominion.
— Dylan Thomas.

David Arlington D'Arcy



"The streets of our country are in turmoil, the universities are full of students rebelling and rioting. Communists are seeking to destroy our country, Russia is threatening us with her might, and the republic is in danger. Yes, danger from within and from without. We need law and order, without law and order our nation cannot survive. Elect us and we shall restore law and order. We will be respcted by the nation's of the world for law and order. Without law and order our republic will fall." (Adolf Hitler, 1932)

"Who is Sylvia that all her swains commend her!" It's not that I mind the library, but what can I do with a library. I mean books all over the place it's enough to make me ill. There is nothing worse than an overdue book except maybe an overdue baby-ick! Then there is the matter of the red lipstick. After the third layer of skin it gets painful. My knees really do get cold, really. So I am not healthy, wealthy and wise but someone up there likes me. How do you spell?

Thoroughly corrupted . . . car for bog, cookies for biscuits. A bazzooka freak, a tinribbed shark with a truckdriver's accent whose Granny was Queen Victoria; ah, the evils of colonial distortion! Nothing was subversive . . . simply a matter of principle. "There are many here among us who feel that life is but a joke." However we found ways, means and places to survive. Much was beautiful and not all is said and done. To those blessed who"remember what the doormouse said . . . feed your head." Lots of love, Hutch.

Kent is a totalitarian society. It has placed social cohension above individual desires and aspirations: and thus obliterates the difference between private and public existence . . . Therefore, if you have related to the individual we have unspoken memories.

All about me in 500 spaces? Known as Zach. You may remember me for my shrill ghastly laugh, my lack of success with any sort of math, my frustration with library books, my unoriginal choir announcements, my Snoopy drawings, Hum Bugs, my boiled brownies, my desperate swing at the tennis ball, and my crash diets. I tried.
Thanks everyone – It's nice to have friends but sad to leave them. Now off into me wild blue yonder with my kites.

Just Cardin' Wool For Folks

Up in the North Carolina mountains, quite a while back, most farmers owned a few sheep. Come shearing time, the womenfolk would spin the raw wool into stout clothes and bedcoverings for their families.

Then, about a century ago, a man named Alexander Chatham built a crude water mill on the Yadkin River, and invited the local people to bring their wool for spinning. Mr. Chatham did his work well, for his customers were also his neighbors.

Today Chatham sells to the whole world. The Chatham mill is one of America's greatest, producing many textile products from a multitude of different fibers. We use ultra-sophisticated machinery including the famous Fiberwoven process that seems destined to produce a whole new range of textile products. One thing has not changed, however. Chatham is still a family business, managed by the fourth generation of Chatham sons. And family pride is a very good guarantee of quality.

In the chilly hours and minutes of uncertainty,
I wanna be in the warm hold of your lovin' mind . . .
To feel you all around me
and to take your hand along the sand . . .
Ah, but I may as well try and catch the wind.

When sundown pales the sky
I wanna hide awhile behind your smile and everywhere I'd look, your eyes I'd find . . .
For me to love you now would be the sweetest thing.
T'would make me sing . . .

Ah, but I may as well try and catch the wind:

When rain has hung the leaves with tears,
I want you near to kill my fear,
to help me to leave all my blues behind . . .
For standing in your heart is where I wanna be,
and long to be . . .

We'll miss you, 1970, in spite of all the grief you've given us.
